PUBLIC.

Delhi, the 30th March 1922.

No. 592.—The following report is published for general information :—

Report of the Committee on Public Petitions.

In pursuance of the terms of the Home Department Resolution No. F-209-Public, dated the 4th February 1922, we met on the 18th and 21st February 1922 in the Committee Room at Metcalfe House. The Hon'ble Sir B. C. Mitter, the Hon'ble Sir Alexander Murray and Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer were unfortunately unable to attend.

2. The terms of reference to us were "to examine the question whether the two Chambers of the Indian Legislature should exercise any powers with reference to petitions, and, if so, what those powers should be and further in that case whether standing committees of the two Chambers should be constituted and, if so, what should be the procedure and what limitations should be imposed on the powers of the committees." Before we set forth our recommendations to Government on the points referred to us we consider it desirable to sketch, very briefly, the history of the right of petitioning Parliament, as that has largely influenced our conclusions.

3. When the practice of petitioning Parliament first arose the functions of the Courts, the Chancery and Parliament had not yet become definite. Consequently, petitions were then presented to Parliament regarding matters in respect of which the petitioners in modern times would have recourse to the ordinary judicial tribunals.

4. By the end of the 14th century the jurisdiction of the Chancery and the King's Council had been built up and Parliament was no longer the resort of suitors seeking a remedy for individual grievances. At this time, petitions were received from persons who desired to use the legislative powers of Parliament to obtain a privilegium, that is, a change of the law for their benefit or an exemption from its provisions. This procedure has in course of time developed into the modern private bill legislation.

5. It was not until the 17th century that public petitions—i.e., petitions complaining of public grievances—became at all common, but at that period the right to make and present petitions to Parliament and the right of Parliament to receive and consider petitions were clearly affirmed, notably by a resolution of the House of Commons passed in 1669. It was found, however, that the presentation, the reading and often the discussion of petitions made serious inroads on the time of the House and as petitions steadily increased it became necessary to impose limitations on the right of petitioning.

6. As the rules framed for this purpose regulate the procedure now in force it is desirable to explain them in some detail. In pursuance of a resolution of the 20th February 1833, a select committee is appointed to which all petitions are referred except such as relate to private bills. The duty of this committee is to classify, to abstract and to report. Its reports are issued twice every week during session and the committee has power, when necessary, to direct the printing of a petition in extenso. Further, by standing orders of 1842 and 1853 the House has limited the dealings with a petition on its presentation by a member to a statement of the parties from which it comes, the number of signatures, the material allegations and the prayer with which it concludes. No debate is allowed, but the petition, if required to be read, may be read by the Clerk of the House. The rule as to debate may be set aside and the petition discussed if it should disclose a case of urgency for which an immediate remedy is required.

7. The main points which emerge from this examination of the history of the right of petitioning Parliament are that it came into existence at a time when the line between the judicial functions of Parliament and its legislative functions was indefinite; and that though petitions are still presented the exercise of the right is in modern times unimportant from the constitutional point of view, as other methods have grown up by which grievances can be dealt with in a more suitable way.

8. We turn now to the questions which have been referred to us, and we may state at the outset that our view is that if a provision enabling the Indian Legislature to receive public petitions is to be introduced, the exercise of it should be regulated with reference to present-day practice in the House of Commons and not with reference to the practice in force at any earlier stage in the development of Parliament.

9. We first considered the proposal contained in the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Sir M. B. Dadabhoy in the Council of State, which led to the appointment of this committee by the Government of India. That resolution ran as follows: "this Council recommends to the Governor General in Council that this Council be authorized, if necessary by statute, to receive from the public petitions on all matters relating to public wrong, grievance or disability, or to any act or acts of public servants, or to public policy; to investigate the complaint and to make a report to this Council; and that a committee be constituted on public petitions with powers to examine witnesses and record evidence." The proposal contained in this resolution goes far beyond the present practice in Parliament and we can see no justification for giving to either Chamber of the Indian Legislature the very wide powers proposed in the resolution. It seems to us clear that if such powers were granted legislation would be required and the danger of conflict with the courts would be considerable.

10. On the other hand, petitions are as a matter of fact received from time to time from the public relating to Bills pending in the Legislature and we consider it desirable that there should be a regular procedure for receiving and dealing with such documents. We recommend, therefore, that the right of public to petition the Indian Legislature and the right of the Indian Legislature to receive petitions from the public should be formally recognized to the extent which we shall now proceed to indicate.

11. We are of opinion that the right of petitioning should be limited to public business, and after careful consideration we have come to the conclusion that it should be further limited to legislation which is actually pending before the Legislature. We are also agreed that the presentation of a petition should not be made an occasion for raising a debate. This is in accordance with the present practice of the House of Commons, and we would observe that the Indian Legislature enjoys greater opportunity than does Parliament of raising debate on matters of public interest, by resolution or otherwise. We accordingly recommend that there should be a procedure for receiving in either Chamber of the Legislature petitions relating to bills pending in that Chamber, that no debate should be allowed on the presentation of a petition and that for each Chamber a Standing Committee on Public Petitions should be constituted, the chairman and members of which should be nominated by the President of the Chamber at the commencement of each session.

12. As regards the functions of these committees we consider that the present practice of the House of Commons should be followed as closely as possible. Every petition presented to a Chamber of the Legislature should be referred to the Standing Committee of that Chamber. The duties of the Standing Committee should be to examine every petition referred to it and to submit a report to the Chamber stating :—

- (1) the subject matter of the petition ;
- (2) the number of the signatories ; and
- (3) whether the petition is in order or not.

The Standing Committee should also be authorised, if it found that the petition was in order, to direct that the petition in extenso, or a summary thereof, should be circulated as a paper to the Bill to which it relates. The committee should in its report state whether circulation has or has not been directed.

13. We also desire to express the opinion that the procedure to be followed in dealing with petitions in each Chamber should be laid down in a Standing Order of that Chamber. We recognize that it is not our function to draft Standing Orders for the Chambers, but we think that our recommendations can most clearly be expressed in detail in that form. We have, therefore, put our proposals in the form of the draft Standing Order appended to this report. That draft also includes our recommendations regarding certain points of procedure which we do not consider to be of sufficient importance to require explanation in the body of this report.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Delhi, the 30th March 1922.

RESOLUTION.

Revised rules governing the appointment of persons possessing the qualifications in section 99, sub-section (1) of the Government of India Act to offices ordinarily filled from amongst the members of the Indian Civil Service, have been published with the Notification of the Government of India in this Department No. F-438, dated the 30th March 1922, and the Government of India are now pleased to make the following observations for general information and for the guidance of all local Governments.

2. The main purpose of the Government of India in revising the rules was to enable local Governments to give a fair trial to the experiment, recommended by the Public Services Commission and accepted by the Secretary of State in Council, of filling certain District and Sessions Judgeships direct from the Bar. Under the old rules the appointments which were declared as open to persons who satisfied the requirements of sub-section (1) of section 99 of the Government of India Act, were chiefly intended to be filled by members of the Provincial Civil Services, and the appointments of persons other than members of the Provincial Civil Service were restricted to one-fourth of the total number of appointments so declared. Local Governments were advised in paragraph 11 of the Home Department Resolution No. 2559, dated the 1st December 1920, to utilise this power to fill up certain District and Sessions Judgeships from the Bar, but the proportion of one-fourth seriously restricts the powers of local Governments to pursue the scheme as an experimental measure, and the Government of India have accordingly, with the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, revised the rules so as to permit judicial appointments to be filled from the legal profession on equal terms with members of the Provincial Services. At the same time and in view of the extension of the power to make appointments from the Bar under the new rule 2, the percentage of persons who may be appointed to listed posts, whether judicial or executive, who do not belong either to the provincial services or the Bar, has been reduced from 25 to 15.

It must, however, be clearly understood that this decision is not intended to override the announcement made in paragraphs 9 and 11 of the abovementioned Resolution of the 1st December 1920 to the effect that there would be no reduction in the number of posts open to men promoted from the provincial civil service and that the rights of existing members of the civil services would be duly safeguarded. Local Governments will accordingly fill judicial listed posts from the provincial services as far as possible to the same extent as in the past.

3. Rules 4 and 5 are an extension of the previous arrangement and are intended to give local Governments practically full powers as regards the listing of inferior posts. In view of the exclusion of most inferior posts from the third schedule to the Government of India Act, it will practically be confined to Additional Sessions Judgeships which are included in the schedule and are occasionally, in some provinces, treated as inferior appointments.

4. Rule 1 has been revised to give effect to the new arrangement that in lieu of listing particular appointments, the total number of superior executive and judicial posts which are listed shall be notified. This will make officers promoted to posts in the Indian Civil Service cadres eligible, with members of the Indian Civil Service, on their merits for all posts in the Civil Service cadres.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to local Governments, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

For each of the speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating. Classes are held at 5, 6 and 7 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

Combination of the above subjects and reduction of fee.—If a student simultaneously takes up two or three of the subjects (a) to (e), a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the fees payable by him will be granted. For example, if a student is a member of both the Shorthand and the Elementary Book-keeping classes, he will have to pay instalments of Rs. 2 for each subject instead of Rs. 3 for the session, July to December.

(f), (g), (h), (i) and (j).—Classes are formed in these subjects if a sufficient number of candidates apply for admission. The fee for each subject is Rs. 3 for each series of ten lectures.

(k) Accountancy and Auditing.—There are two courses of year each for ordinary students, or one year for those who are already practising as Auditors, to prepare candidates for the Government examination of Diploma in Accountancy, which qualifies them to obtain the Government license to practise as Auditors. Students of this class have to attend Book-keeping and Mercantile Law classes, for which no extra fee has to be paid. The fee is Rs. 144, payable in advance in four half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of ordinary students and Rs. 72 in two half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of those who are practising as Auditors and hold a provisional license granted by Government.

2. Examinations.—The examination in subjects (a) to (j) is held at the end of April, at the end of the year's course, under the control of the Government Commercial Institute Board, and successful candidates receive certificates signed by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and countersigned by the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The examination fee for each subject is Rs. 5.

3. Attendance.—Strict regularity and punctuality of attendance are observed. Students must attend 75 per cent. of the lectures in order to appear at the examination. Classes are not held in the evening on Saturday.

4. Standard of Admission.—Candidates who have attended the lectures of the day course are eligible for admission. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join.

5. Prizes.—Prizes of Rs. 50 each are offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the best candidates from the evening classes in subjects (b), (d), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j). Three medals are offered by the Remington Typewriter Co. to the best three students of either the day or evening classes in the Typewriting examination.

6. Admission.—Candidates for admission should send in their applications and register their names, with a deposit of fees, before the end of June. Candidates who desire to be admitted in December should apply before the end of November.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to consolidate as far as may be the Indian Acts relating to merchant shipping. The first Act now on the Indian Statute Book dealing with that subject was passed in 1838 and the last in 1920, and during this period of nearly a century, a large number of Acts have been from time to time enacted by the Legislature. The result is that the law has become increasingly difficult to refer to and the case for consolidation is very strong.

Attempts have been made on several occasions in the past to remedy this state of affairs. In 1867, again in 1882, and more particularly in the years 1893 to 1896, Bills attempting to effect a complete or partial consolidation were brought before the Legislature. These attempts failed for a variety of causes with which it is unnecessary to enter in detail, but a possible cause common to all was the fact that consolidation and amendment were undertaken at the same time. If, as seems probable, the effects to consolidate and amend at the same time were contributory to the failures in the past, such a course is not less undesirable in 1922, for the volume of the law to be dealt with is far greater and the legislative machinery is far more complex. The present Bill, therefore, does not attempt to go beyond consolidation and that not even of the whole of the law which is not feasible for reasons which will be dealt with later.

Any consolidating measure must, however, necessarily involve a consideration of the English Statute Law on the subject, for by the enactment of the Imperial Statute, the great Merchant Shipping Act of 1894, the powers of the Indian Legislature were both curtailed and extended. The Indian law has therefore to be brought into legal harmony with that enactment and its amending Acts. Save for this purpose and in the few unimportant respects, mostly necessitated by the lapse of time, which are referred to in the Notes on Clauses, no change of substance has been made intentionally.

2. The Bill is an imperfect consolidation of the law in one important respect. It leaves untouched the Indian law relating to the registration of ships. That law is contained in Act XIX of 1838 and Act X of 1841 and its amending Acts. The latter Acts were passed in virtue of Acts of Parliament which have been repealed, and though their provisions are saved there is no power to re-enact them even if it were desirable to do so. Whether they can now be repealed and the matter left to be dealt with by Part I of the English Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, which extends throughout the British Empire, or whether special provisions must be maintained to meet the case of country craft and other classes of shipping provided for by these Acts are matters which are beyond the scope of a consolidating Bill prepared under the auspices of the body which stands sponsor for the present measure.

3. The Bill has been prepared and considered by the Statute Law Revision Committee and they consider it a useful step towards the clarification of the Statute Book.

They do not, however, recommend it should be passed into law in its present shape. It is abundantly evident that numerous amendments of the law are called for, some of which they have indicated in the Notes on Clauses.

They would recommend that the passage of the present Bill should be suspended at some convenient stage in its consideration by the Indian Legislature, and that an amending Bill drawn to harmonize with this consolidating measure should, when all controversial points have been decided, be referred for amalgamation with the present Bill.

A. P. MUDDIMAN,

The 6th February 1922.

President, Statute Law Revision Committee.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2.—The definitions of "effects" and "wages" are new. They have been inserted for purely drafting purposes, in order to shorten the language of the Bill and follow the definitions in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, section 742.

Clause 4.—This clause does not exactly reproduce the existing law. Section 114 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, section 5 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1883, and section 5(c) of the Indian Steamships Act, 1884, except from the operation of the provisions of those Acts, respectively, ships “belonging to His Majesty or the Government, etc.” On the other hand, sections 3 and 80 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1880, except ships “belonging to, or hired by, Her Majesty or the Secretary of State for India in Council”; section 2 of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, excepts ships of the Royal Navy and Indian Marine and “any other ship for the time being in the service of Her Majesty”; and the Indian Wireless Telegraphy (Shipping) Act, 1920, does not exempt any ships at all. As the exact amendment of the various provisions here noticed has, in the past, frequently been questioned, and as the Acts of 1859 and 1883 were amended in this respect in 1919, it seems possible that the provisions, as consolidated in the draft Bill, will be suitable and sufficient.

The Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, confers a special exemption in regard to ships belonging to a foreign State. The exemption in the English law, and the same is also probably true as regards India, rests on the general exemption consequent on the absolute independence of every sovereign authority under the international comity which induces every sovereign State to respect the independence and dignity of every other sovereign State as a consequence of which public property which is destined for the public use of a State is exempt from territorial jurisdiction. See the Parlement Belles (1890), 5 P. D. 197 C. A. As, however, the Indian Acts contain various exemptions, this clause reproduces in a generalised form the exemption of public ships of foreign States. There is a slight alteration in the law to which attention is drawn, in that Act X of 1887, section 2(2) (iii) confines the exemption to ships of war.

Clause 5 (1).—Section 262 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, exempts pleasure yachts from certain requirements of the corresponding Part, and it seems probable that the same exemption should find place in the Indian law. The matter is one for an amending Bill.

Clause 5 (2).—This gives the widest scope possible to our Indian legislation having regard to section 261 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894. This part of the Bill fills up the lacunæ which the section in question leaves in the application of Part II of the Imperial Act. Sub-clause (3) of the same clause gives the widest application to the Part which is possible under the Imperial Law and refers in support of this to section 264 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894.

Clause 6.—The terms “shipping-master” and “shipping office” were originally used in the English Merchant Shipping law, but by section 15 of 25 and 26 Vict., C. 63, the phrases “Superintendent of a mercantile marine office” and “Mercantile marine office” were respectively substituted. From the drafting point of view there is no particular advantage in making the substitution in the Bill, and it is possible that, for administrative reasons, it may be undesirable to change well-known titles. Under section 742 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, the Superintendent, so far as regards a British possession, includes any shipping-master or other officer discharging in that possession the duties of the Superintendent, so no difficulty arises in that connection from the retention of the word “shipping-master.” If for any administrative reasons the substitution is considered desirable, it is a matter which might well be dealt with by an amending Act.

Clause 9.—This clause reproduces the existing law. It may be pointed out that the fees payable upon engagements and discharges of seamen have been abolished in the United Kingdom and by the Statute Law Revision Act, 55 and 56 Vict., C. 19, the law which authorises the levy of those fees was repealed.

Clause 11.—Clause 11 has been drawn in the somewhat awkward form in which it appears in the Bill, as, though it reproduces the existing law, it seems probable that an amendment will be called for. Under the English law, section 92 of the Merchant Shipping Act, all ships to which that section applies are required to have at least a certificated master.

Clause 11 (2).—The draft Bill makes a slight change here in the existing law, as a steamship proceeding to the Straits Settlements would require engineer officers only on the scale required for home-trade ships; whereas, under section 31 of the Indian Steam-ships Act, 1884, she is treated in this respect as a foreign-going ship. It is to be observed that the reference to the Straits Settlements was included in the definition of a "foreign-going ship" contained in section 118 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, by the Indian Merchant Shipping Law Amendment Act, 1891, and that a similar amendment was not made in section 30 (1) of the Indian Steam-ships Act, 1884. Attention is drawn to the point in case the matter may be one of practical importance.

Clause 11 (3).—The provision in Act VII of 1884, section 32, which is here re-enacted is re-enacted in an absolute form instead of depending as it does in the existing law on an order of the Local Government. This clause, it is thought, is justified as it is understood that all maritime Local Governments have made the order and the requirement is in force and is also in accordance with the trend of modern legislation.

Clause 16.—The examiners are required to report on the sobriety, experience and ability of applicants for certificates as masters and mates under the existing Indian law. The clause as drawn extends this requirement to the case of engineer certificates, and thus makes a small alteration in the law. There seems no reason why the law should not be assimilated into the English law, and the fact that the requirement does not exist would appear to be mainly due to the different periods of time at which the Acts here consolidated were enacted. As, however, a small alteration in the law is involved attention is drawn to this clause.

Clause 17.—This clause omits those portions of section 12 of Act I of 1859 which appear to be clearly spent. It further substitutes what are understood to be the modern designations of the Officers of the Naval or Royal Indian Marine officers referred to in the existing law. The Committee, however, are not in possession of sufficient information on the subject to say whether the designations employed are entirely accurate, and attention is drawn to this clause from that point of view.

Clause 22.—Following the drafting of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, the provisions of the law relating to the production of certificates of competency to the shipping-master are separated from those relating to the production of the agreement with the crew, which will be found in clause 34. This separation makes the drafting clearer and is necessitated by the re-arrangement of the order of the provisions incorporated in the Bill.

Clause 23.—The provisions of the Apprentices Act, 1850 (XIX of 1850), relating to apprentices to the sea service have been reproduced in the Bill, and the references in the Apprentices Act have accordingly been repealed. It is thought that these provisions more appropriately belong to the law relating to Merchant Shipping, especially as they impose duties on shipping-masters. It may be pointed out, however, that these provisions merely refer to ships registered in British India. It has been ascertained by inquiry from those conversant with the facts that apprenticeships are made in British India to owners of ships registered in the United Kingdom. The provisions of sections 108 and 109 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, only apply in the United Kingdom. It seems desirable that they should be re-enacted mutatis mutandis in the Indian law, but the matter is one for an amending Bill.

Clause 27.—The requirement regarding agreements with the crew under the existing law, which is here reproduced, only extends to home-trade ships of three hundred tons or upwards. Attention is drawn to the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, section 113, which requires an agreement in the case of all ships, except home-trade ships of less than eighty tons.

Clause 28 (2) (f).—The power to fix the scale of provisions in the case of lascars or other native seamen is by the existing law conferred on the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council. This provision is reproduced in the Bill, but the re-arrangement of the Bill brings out the inconsistency of this division of the powers when it is considered that the form of agreement is to be sanctioned by the Governor General in Council. There appears to be some case for a consideration of an amendment of the law.

Clause 28 (2) (g).—The reference to short allowance of provisions herein contained reproduces the existing law, but it is understood that in the sanctioned form of agreement this punishment has long been struck out. In these circumstances here also there appears to be a case for the amendment of the law.

Clause 38.—This clause reproduces the existing law, but it is for consideration whether some amendment is not desirable. The clause relates to the engagement of seamen "to proceed to any port out of British India." This would include some home-trade voyages. The question seems to arise, therefore, whether some amendment is not necessary.

Clause 49.—The existing law is reproduced by this clause, but the attention of Government might be called to the provisions of section 137 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, which enables small questions of wages to be dealt with in the case of foreign-going ships without a written agreement. The matter is not, however, one that can be dealt with in a consolidating Bill.

Clause 56.—Sub-clause (2) of this clause is new. It is based on section 56 (q) of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894. As will be seen it is merely a drafting amendment, and, therefore, may reasonably be inserted in a consolidating Bill. It remedies a defect in the section which is obvious.

Clause 59.—In connection with this clause attention is drawn to the provisions of section 160 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, under which a seaman is not entitled to wages where his illness is only caused by his own default. Apparently under the Indian law a man is entitled to wages in those circumstances.

Clause 63.—This reproduces the existing law, but some amendment is desirable, as the Indian law does not recognise a summary suit before a Magistrate.

Clause 65.—Section 167 (2) of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, gives the master and the persons lawfully acting, owing to his illness, for the master similar rights in respect of lawful disbursements. This is a provision which might well find place in an amending Bill.

Clause 75 (1) (c).—The provision here reproduced is that contained in section 56 (c) of Act VII of 1880. It seems somewhat anomalous that the control over the local authority which is appointed by the Local Government [clause 74 (2)], should be vested in the Governor General in Council.

Clause 98.—This clause reproduces the existing law, and follows the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, which only applies to ships before arrival in dock or the place of discharge. A substantial amendment is necessary if the Indian law is to be brought into harmony with the English law contained in section 218 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894.

Clause 147.—Under section 368 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, the provisions of Part III of that Act (other than the provisions relating to passenger steamers only) do not apply to British India, but by sub-section (2) of that section, the Governor General in Council is, by Act, allowed to declare that all or any provisions of Part III shall apply to the carriage of steerage passengers upon any voyage from any specified port whatsoever. This section in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, is based on section 99 of 18 and 19 Vict., C. 119 (the Passengers' Act, 1855). Under the powers conferred by that Act, the Indian Sea Passengers' Act, 1855, was passed. The Passengers' Act dealt with the carriage of passengers of all classes. Section 368 referred to above only deals with the carriage of steerage passengers. The provisions of the Indian Sea Passengers' Act were, in effect, made applicable to certain voyages specified in section 3 of that Act, and to those voyages the provisions of sections 273 and 274 and Schedule VII of the Passengers' Act were applied. The corresponding provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1894 are the provisions in case of wreck contained in sections 332, 333, 334 and 335 of the Act of 1894, and these provisions have been incorporated in a Schedule to the Bill.

Section 368 (3) provides that an Act passed in virtue of the power conferred by that section shall not have effect under the section unless it is reserved for the signification of His Majesty's pleasure thereon, or contains a suspending clause providing that the Act shall not come into operation until His Majesty's pleasure thereon has been publicly signified in British India. Section 368 does not contain a provision with reference to Acts passed under the power reproduced thereby similar to that in section 735, sub-section (2) of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894. It will, therefore, appear to be necessary to insert a clause making the repeal of the existing law take effect from the date on which His Majesty may signify his pleasure.

Part IV.—The clauses of the Bill in this Part are a consolidation of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887 (X of 1887), and the Pilgrim Ships Act, 1895 (XIV of 1895). Though possibly for some reasons it might be more convenient to keep these Acts separate, it is impossible to do so in a consolidation Bill, as a large number of the clauses of the two Acts are verbatim reproductions. The plan adopted has been to state the general provisions which apply to both classes of ships, and then to proceed to deal with the special rules which relate only to the particular class in question.

Clause 149 (2).—It has been found desirable to define “native passenger ship”, and the reference in the provision is to clause 147 (2).

Clause 218.—In this clause and in the clause following, clause 219, regarding the marking of load-lines, the provisions of the existing law have been consolidated so as to bring together, subject to the exceptions provided by the Part, the provisions of the law relating both to British and foreign ships.

Clause 228.—This clause contains the saving for foreign ships contained in Act VII of 1880, and the Bill as drawn in this form makes it possible to summarise the provisions relating to overloading and improper loading and the marking of the deck of load-lines covering the cases of all classes of vessels.

Clause 238.—This clause contains the special provisions, in the application to foreign ships, of the provisions as to detention which are contained in section 85 of Act VII of 1880.

Clauses 240—245.—These clauses consolidate the law in regard to the provision of wireless telegraphy on board ships, which seem to fall appropriately under this part of the Bill.

Part VI.—This Part separates from the main body of the Act the provisions of the law in regard to shipping inquiries in Courts. In this respect it follows the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and the arrangement is probably convenient.

Clause 251.—The power to legislate to give power to hold an inquiry in the case of a master, mate or engineer holding a certificate under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, is restricted by section 478 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, to the cases mentioned in clause (b) of sub-clause (1) of that clause. It seems desirable that this limitation should appear on the face of the Act and accordingly it has been inserted in this clause.

Clause 258.—The power conferred by section 472 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, appears to supersede the power in section 80 of Act I of 1859 as regards Courts having Admiralty jurisdiction, and the reference in this clause is intended to draw attention to the existence of that power.

Clause 265. This clause gives power to Courts, in ports where there is no Colonial Court of the Admiralty, to remove a master.

Clause 280.—This clause brings together the officers or other persons who are by various sections of the Act consolidated and declared to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860). This consolidates the provisions as to the place of trial which are scattered over the various Acts.

Clause 281.—This consolidates, in as general a form as possible, the scattered provisions as to the depositions of witnesses who cannot be produced.

Section 112 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, does not confine the power to try cases thereunder to first class Magistrates, but under the existing law it is only Magistrates of the first class who can try cases summarily. In the Act of 1880 there is no special provision as to the class of Magistrate who may try offences except section 54, which provides that Chapter III should be taken as part of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, and the same remark applies to the Act of 1883. Section 38 of the Indian Steam-ships Act, 1884, contains the provision which appears in the Bill, whilst the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, and the Pilgrim Ships Act, 1895, confine the power to try cases under those Acts to Magistrates of the first and second classes. The Indian Wireless Telegraphy (Shipping) Act, 1920, imposes no limitation. This clause, therefore, does not exactly reproduce the existing law, but it is suggested that, in a Bill of this kind, it would be difficult, and possibly is not necessary, to specify various offences as triable, respectively, by first and second class Magistrates.

Clause 284.—This places in the appropriate part of the Bill the provisions for enforcing the detention of a ship.

Clause 286.—This consolidates the various provisions scattered through the Act as to the levy of wages, fines, etc., by description of the ship.

Clause 288.—This gives general application to the provisions of two Acts regarding the application of fines imposed under the Act.

Clause 289 (1).—This clause follows the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, section 723, in that it gives to the shipping-master a power of entry on board British ships in all cases and not only, as in section 30 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, reproduced in clause 41 of the Bill, for the purpose of preventing a seaman from being shipped contrary to the provisions of that Act.

Validation.

20. No act done or proceedings taken under this Act shall be questioned on the ground merely of—

- (a) the existence of any vacancy in or any defect in the constitution of the Board or the Managing Committee; or
- (b) any person having ceased to be a Trustee; or
- (c) any omission, defect or irregularity, not affecting the merits of the case.

Classification of Hospital.

21. For all the purposes of the Indian Lunacy Act, IV of 1912, 1912, the Hospital shall be deemed to be an asylum established by the Government.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A central asylum has for some years been established at Ranchi for the reception of European lunatics from Northern India. As it was intended to serve the needs of several provinces the whole initial cost of the buildings and equipment was met from Imperial funds, but the Provincial Governments concerned agreed to pay the cost of maintenance of all lunatics maintained in the hospital from their provinces. The recovery of these charges has now incidentally been placed upon a legal basis by the enactment of the Indian Lunacy (Amendment) Act, 1922, but the Government of Bihar and Orissa still anticipate considerable difficulties in financing the hospital which in a great measure has been instituted to meet the needs of other provinces.

With the separation of provincial from central finances which has followed the introduction of the Reforms, the Government of India are unable to finance the hospital to a greater extent than is permissible under the Devolution Rules. That is, the Central Government can meet the cost of maintenance of lunatics from places under the Central Government who are maintained in the hospital, and otherwise can only make advances to the Local Government from central revenues under Devolution Rule 25. In order to meet these difficulties, it is considered that it is desirable to make over the hospital to a Board of Trustees on which the various provinces interested in the maintenance of the hospital would be represented and which would be responsible for its proper upkeep under the control of the Government of Bihar and Orissa. The ordinary annual charges would be met by the Board by recoveries from the patients and Local Governments concerned, and the Board would be placed in funds until such recoveries become due by an advance from the central revenues, and the capital cost of original works would also be met by similar advances. Such advances would be repaid to the Central Government by equated instalments of principal and interest within such periods as would be fixed in each case. The object of the present Bill is to give effect to this scheme. It provides for the incorporation of the Board of Trustees, the powers of the Board and the restrictions upon the powers of the Board. The Government of Bengal is given greater representation on the Board than other Local Governments, because 58 per cent. of the inmates of the hospital come from that province. In addition arrangements are included for the control and supersession of the Board, in the event of its failure to perform its duties or of its repeated failure to perform its duties. Finally, the Bill provides for the dissolution of the Board at any time and the re-vesting of the funds and other property of the Board in the Government of Bihar and Orissa on behalf of His Majesty. An order to this effect can, however, only be made by the Government of Bihar and Orissa with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, and the intention is that such sanction shall not be granted unless suitable provision is made by the Local Government for safeguarding the interests of other Local Governments which have contributed to the maintenance of lunatics in the Asylum.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 27th February, 1922:—

No. 9 OF 1922.

TO

Regulate the employment of child labour in ports in British India.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the employment of child labour in ports in British India; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title

1. This Act may be called the Indian Ports (Amendment) Act, 1922.

Amendment of section 6, Act XV of 1908.

2. In section 6 of the Indian Ports Act, 1908,— XV of 1908.

(a) after sub-section (1), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

“(1A) In addition to any rules which it is empowered to make under sub-section (1), the Local Government shall make rules prohibiting the employment at piers, jetties, landing-places, wharves, quays, docks, warehouses and sheds of children under the age of twelve years upon the handling of goods other than goods which can be transported by hand”; and

(b) in sub-section (2) after the word and figure “sub-section (1)” the words and figure “and sub-section (1A)” shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The general Conference of the International Labour Organisation of the League of Nations convened at Washington on the 29th October, 1919, adopted a Draft Convention concerning the minimum age for admission of children to industrial employment. Article 6 (c) of the Convention prohibits, inter alia, the employment of children under twelve years of age in the handling of goods in docks, quays and wharves but excluding transport by hand. On the recommendation of the Legislative Assembly and the Council of State, the Governor General in Council has ratified the whole of the Convention, and the Government of India are now under an obligation to make the provisions of Article 6 (c) effective. The object of the present Bill is to fulfil this obligation so far as the employment of children in the handling of goods in docks, quays and wharves is concerned.

Previous approval of Local Legislature to issue of notifications and rules.

8. No notification under section 3 or rule under section 7 shall be made by the Local Government of any Governor's Province, unless it has been laid in draft before the Legislative Council of the Province, and has been approved by a resolution of the Legislative Council, either with or without modification or addition, but upon such approval being given the notification or rule, as the case may be, may be issued in the form in which it has been so approved.

Protection for acts done under Act.

9. No suit or other legal proceeding shall be instituted against any person in respect of anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Indian Cotton Committee, which was appointed in 1917, brought to notice—

- (1) that the practice of adulterating long staple cotton with short staple was very prevalent at the gins and press-houses in certain long staple areas, the object being to secure for the mixture the higher prices offered for long staple;
- (2) that, owing to the consequent mixture of seed, there was considerable deterioration in the cultivation of many of the superior varieties of cotton;
- (3) that soft cotton waste was also used for the purpose of adulteration with "kapas" (the natural floss); and
- (4) that short staple cotton was frequently railed to a long staple area and re-booked thence, even without mixing, as long staple cotton.

2. As instances of (1) and (2), the Committee quoted the imports of short staple cotton into the Broach tract, the result of which has been that Broach cotton has largely lost its former reputation. Other superior varieties of cotton are threatened with the same fate. The practice described under (4) above is facilitated by the trade custom whereby cotton is bought and sold on the name and reputation of the area where it purports to have been grown ; i.e., on the name of the railway station from which the bales are last booked.

3. These malpractices are exercising so serious and dangerous an influence on the industry as a whole, that the necessity of taking Governmental action has become a matter of immediate importance. The Bill provides a remedy by enabling Local Governments to prevent inferior cotton or cotton-waste, as defined, from being imported, except under licence, into areas which it is desired to protect.

The principal provisions of the Bill are as follows :—

- (1) Local Governments are empowered, with the previous consent of the Provincial Legislature, to define the areas and to notify the stations which should be regarded as protected. Consignments of cotton are not allowed to any such notified station except from other notified stations in the same area.
- (2) It is necessary to make certain exceptions to the prohibition in favour, for instance, of mill-owners within the area requiring extraneous cotton and of purchasers of cotton waste for industrial purposes. Local Governments are accordingly empowered to frame rules for a licensing system and to appoint the authorities for the issue of licences.
- (3) Station masters or other railway servants responsible for the delivery of goods or parcels are prohibited under penalties from delivering cotton improperly consigned to their stations.

MAGISTERIAL ENQUIRY INTO THE ALLEGED MISCONDUCT OF THE MILITARY POLICE AT THE RAILWAY STATION, CHITTAGONG, OCTOBER 1921.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

Political.

CALCUTTA, THE 11TH APRIL 1922.

RESOLUTION—No. 7171P.

READ—

The report of the magisterial enquiry into the alleged misconduct of the Military Police at the railway station, Chittagong, on the night of the 20th October 1921.

On the night of the 20th October 1921, a party of the military police on duty outside the entrance hall of the Chittagong railway station was stoned and mobbed by a crowd which had gathered there to see certain prisoners who were being conveyed to Calcutta that night. It was necessary for the military police to push the crowd back and to clear the space round the entrance to the railway station, and in the process minor injuries were received by various members of the crowd. As the incident was grossly misrepresented in some quarters, Government thought it advisable that an enquiry should be held, and the report of Rai Suresh Chandra Singh Bahadur, Deputy Magistrate, was received by Government on the 2nd December 1921. Criminal cases were pending at that time against certain persons and the publication of the report might have prejudiced this case; these proceedings have now ended in conviction, and the magistrate's report is published for general information.

The Governor in Council agrees with the conclusions of the magistrate, and considers that there was no justification for the attempt made in certain quarters to describe this incident as a "Gurkha outrage."

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that copies be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division and the Inspector-General of Police, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,

Chief Secretary

to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT.

Mr. L. B. Burrows, Additional District Magistrate, originally received orders, through the Divisional Commissioner, on the 8th November 1921 to hold a formal enquiry into the alleged misconduct of the military police at the railway station, Chittagong, on the night of the 20th October. The Additional Magistrate fixed the 21st November as the opening day of his enquiry, because the European Inspector of Police (witness No. 1) had meanwhile been transferred to Kharagpore, but this date was altered to the 15th November on the receipt of orders from Government, asking for a report by the 21st, if possible. Notices were issued for both dates, to the principal executive officers, recognised public bodies and associations, and to the public generally, calling on all persons, who could throw light on the matter under enquiry, to appear and give evidence. Meanwhile as soon as he received the orders referred to above, the Additional Magistrate informed the higher authorities that he had been present at the railway station on the night of the 20th October and that he would probably be required as a witness. Later on, and before any orders had been received on the Additional Magistrate's representation, the Secretary of the Bar Association wrote pointing out that the purpose of the enquiry would be better served if it were conducted by some other officer. As a result, I received orders from Government to conduct the enquiry and commenced it on the 15th November.

2. At the outset, I was informed that the enquiry would be boycotted by the public, but it was, as a matter of fact, attended throughout by several pleaders, muktears and other members of the general public, several of whom took notes of the proceedings and also cross-examined some of the witnesses. The local authorities were represented by a senior vakil, who examined 25 witnesses on behalf of those authorities. All these witnesses were tendered for cross-examination, but advantage was not taken of this except in the case of witnesses Nos. 20, 21, 24, 25 and 27. In addition 16 members of the public came forward to give evidence, but only seven of them were cross-examined because the remaining nine did not appear on the day following their examination-in-chief though requested to do so.

3. Before proceeding to consider all this evidence, it may be as well to glance briefly at the general conditions and circumstances under which the incident of the 20th October occurred. Since the month of April last, Chittagong has been the centre of great activity on the part of the non-co-operators in connection with the Chandpur coolie affair, the Assam-Bengal Railway strike, the Khilafat and allied agitations, and the campaign against foreign cloth. Constant public speeches by various leaders of the party have excited the public mind unduly and various incidents have occurred not calculated to allay such excitement. Among other things, it was necessary to take proceedings against several local leaders under section 108, Cr. P. C., while Mr. J. M. Sen Gupta, the recognised leader among local leaders and the President of the Railway Employees' Union, had to be prosecuted along with eighteen other persons for organising an illegal procession and continuing as a member of an unlawful assembly after the latter had been ordered to disperse by the District Magistrate in person. The trial aroused considerable public interest and was concluded before the Additional District Magistrate on the 20th October, when all the accused persons were sentenced to three months' rigorous imprisonment under section 151, I.P.C. In accordance with the general orders on the subject, arrangements were made to transfer these political prisoners to the Alipore Central Jail the same night. News of this intended transfer was evidently circulated throughout the town and its neighbourhood, and a crowd commenced to assemble at about 4 P.M. outside the jail gate. Various acts of rowdiness, detailed in the evidence of witnesses Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 23, 25, and 27, were committed by the crowd, including the burning of foreign cloth, the stripping of passers-by of foreign apparel, the shouting of political cries, and the abuse of Police Officers. Reinforcements had to be summoned from the Buxirhat beat, but the crowd continued to swell in numbers until it extended all the way from the jail gate to the railway station—a distance of about three quarters of a mile. The police force deputed to escort the prisoners to the station, and consisting of three Sub-Inspectors, two Assistant Sub-Inspectors and a sufficiently large number of constables under Sergeant Penny, arrived at the jail at about 7 P.M. As stated by the officers of the escort party (witnesses Nos. 2, 3, 23, 25 and 27) and corroborated by non-official witness No. 28, considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the carriages to convey the prisoners inside the jail compound. It is in evidence that Sub-Inspector Sachindra Kumar Bhaumik (witness No. 27) was stoned at this point. The crowd surrounded the carriages as the prisoners were taken out of the jail premises by the escort party. Torches were improvised out of split bamboos taken from the jail fencing. A band and Sankirtan parties joined the procession and added to the uproar. There was also a display of fire-works, accompanied by the frequent firing of bombs. All shades of political opinion were represented in the procession, but everyone now disowns responsibility for its elaborate organisation, because it was in fact illegal, being in direct contravention of the general prohibition of such processions by the Superintendent of Police under section 30(2) of Act V of 1861.

4. It has, however, been claimed that the procession, whatever its legality may have been, moved in a quiet and orderly fashion without obstruction to or annoyance of persons lawfully employed. It is, nevertheless, admitted that picketting and burning of foreign cloth took place. Further, the evidence shows that the road was obstructed at various points and that the police officers had to descend from their carriages to clear a path through the surrounding crowd. Members of the crowd are said to have abused and spat at these police officers, and Sub-Inspector Sachindra Kumar Bhaumik (witness No. 27) was hit on the head by a bamboo thrown near the District Board Office. Assistant Sub-Inspector Birendra Kumar Baruri (witness No. 2) and Head-Constable Samsul Huda (witness No. 3) were hit on the ears by brick-bats, and the whole escort party was treated to a more or less continuous shower of various missiles. Both official and non-official evidence (witnesses Nos. 7, 9, 11, 29 and 32) proves the holding up of Abdul Jubbar Sadagar's carriage and the snatching and tearing up of his chaddar and shirt. Babu Naba Kumar Banerjee (witness No. 7), a clerk in the office of the Deputy Traffic Superintendent, Chittagong, had his foreign coat torn and stripped off. As has been stated, the conditions were ripe for such rowdyism on the part of the followers of and sympathisers with the incarcerated leader, Mr. Sen Gupta, and the evidence shows that they did actually indulge in such excesses with the idea of demonstrating their sympathies in practical form. Apprehending further developments of such expressions of excitement and ill-feeling, the officer-in-charge of Kotwali police-station (witness No. 11) telephoned to the Superintendent of Police (witness No. 13) at the Chittagong Club, informing him of what was taking place. Mr. Cornish, the Superintendent of Police, consulted the District Magistrate (witness No. 12), and it was decided that the escort should be strengthened to prevent more serious trouble at the railway station. The District Magistrate is said to have suggested that the escort might be strengthened with the ordinary or armed police, but it was ascertained that there were only five or six men available in the lines at this time, the remainder of the force having already been deputed to maintain order outside the jail and along the road leading to the railway station. The District Magistrate thereupon requested Captain Wood (witness No. 15), the Commanding Officer of E. F. Rifles, who was also at the Club, to send a force of forty of his men under a native officer to the railway station to reinforce the Police. Mr. Cornish says in evidence that both he and Captain Wood personally instructed the Indian Officer to accompany the force of Military Police. The fact that the Commanding Officer did not accompany the force supports the conclusion that it was not the intention of the Civil authorities to use the Military Police for the immediate purpose of dispersing the crowd. It appears from the evidence of Captain Wood that the order about sending a force of forty sepoys under an Indian Officer was somehow distorted over the telephone, with the result that the whole detachment of ninety-two men, under two Indian Officers, marched down to the railway station. The detachment was accompanied by Inspector Malins of the Bengal Police (witness No. 1) and was timed to arrive at the station about the same time as the escort party with the prisoners. It is clear that the Military Police was intended primarily to assist the ordinary police in maintaining order and preserving the public peace, and there can be no doubt that this step was quite justified in the circumstances reported and actually existing. After allowing reasonable time for the Military Police to reach the railway station, the District Magistrate in company with Mr. Burrows, the Additional District Magistrate, and Mr. Cornish, the Superintendent of Police, left the Club for his bungalow by car, intending to ring up the station and ascertain how affairs were proceeding. But when they pulled up the car at the foot of the hill on which the District Magistrate's bungalow stands, they heard loud shouting from the direction of the railway station. Thinking that a serious riot might be in progress, the District Magistrate, accompanied by the Additional Magistrate and the Superintendent of Police, drove at once in the same car to the railway station. By the time the District Magistrate and party arrived there, everything was found to be quiet and peaceful in and around the railway station and a large crowd was seen dispersing quietly. The train with the prisoners left the station shortly after their arrival, and having stayed on the platform for another five minutes or so, the District Magistrate and other officials returned home.

5. Coming now to the evidence of the occurrence under enquiry, it will be seen from the evidence of Inspector Malins (witness No. 1) and other witnesses, that the disorderly and vast crowd moving in procession with the prisoners was sighted on the main road near the eastern approach to the railway station, when the detachment of the Gurkha Military Police entered the station compound by the western approach from the main road on the Pahartali side. Both the approach roads meet under the portico of the railway station, in front of the main entrance to the platform. It is also admitted, on all hands, that a very large crowd had gathered and spread over every inch of available space within the station area before the procession with the prisoners arrived. The railway platform was crowded, and the portico with the approaches were all packed. Babu Aparna Charan Kanango (non-official witness No. 28) says that he tried to keep the crowd under the portico in check sometime before the procession with the prisoners had entered the station area by the eastern approach, but his own evidence suggests the inference that the crowd reassembled under the portico as quickly as he shoved them back. The evidence shows that thousands of men had already gathered and that there was a general rush and scramble for places. The Military Police marched up to the western approach, moving the crowd before them, and halted under the portico, while Inspector Malins (witness No. 1) and Jamadar Mendaram (witness No. 16) entered the railway platform to make the necessary dispositions. Part of the detachment then went on to the station platform, while the other part remained outside under the portico. As the escort party with the prisoners came up the eastern approach to the portico, the crowd already assembled in the space between was inevitably driven towards the portico and commenced to encroach upon the space occupied by the detachment. The Gurkhas were thus pressed from all sides and found it difficult to hold their own. At this stage, some persons in the crowd commenced throwing stones, etc., at the Gurkhas. One Kalicharan rifleman (witness No. 19) was hit on the chest, while Nubinram rifleman (witness No. 18) was injured on the knee. Rifleman Paniram (witness No. 17) says that one of the crowd tried to wrest away his rifle by force. The weapon was recovered by Paniram, after a scuffle, with the assistance of Havildar Lowaram (witness No. 20). The shower of stones and brickbats, coupled with the pressure of the crowd from all directions, was apparently too much for the patience and forbearance of the comparatively small band of military police, charged with the duty of maintaining order and preserving peace; apart from their orders in this connection, their natural instincts of self-preservation and self-defence asserted themselves and caused them to shove back the hostile crowd some 40 or 50 yards from the portico towards the east. The suggestion is that the story about pressure from the crowd, accompanied by the throwing of stones, is an after thought,—but it is in evidence that both Jamadar Mindaram (witness No. 16) and Inspector Malins (witness No. 1) were told about these incidents as soon as the Gurkhas reformed ranks on being recalled. The Jamadar adds that stones continued to be thrown after the Gurkhas had fallen back and that he was himself hit then. Further, Sub-Inspector Sachindra Kumar Bhaumik (witness No. 27) confirms this, while the Superintendent of Police (witness No. 13) corroborates Inspector Malins as to the immediate reporting of the stone-throwing. Captain Wood (witness No. 15) says also that one of his officers reported everything to him the following morning. Among the non-official witnesses, the testimony of Babu Ranjan Lal Sen, B.L. (witness No. 38), a pleader of the local bar, supports that of the official witnesses. He says that there was a great rush towards the portico as the procession approached it by the eastern passage and that this was followed by a counter-rush on the part of the Gurkhas. He was not in a position to see whether or not a shower of stones and brick-bats preceded the Gurkha-rush. It has been stated by most of the non-official witnesses that a stampede followed, and huddled as the crowd was, it is not difficult to picture how many of them must have knocked one another over, trodden on each other and being knocked against railing and other obstacles all around in the general confusion and rush to escape. Of the 16 non-official witnesses, 5 have shown me injuries on various parts of their bodies, said to have been received in the course of the alleged "Gurkha outrage". I have not heard any medical evidence as to the probable cause of their injuries, but it is quite possible that some of them were caused in the manner mentioned above. At the same time it is also quite likely that some of the injuries were caused by the butt-ends of rifles, used to press back the turbulent and aggressively encroaching crowd, but the point is that none of the injuries were serious nor more severe than the necessities of the situation demanded, nor was any complaint made about them to the authorities at the station or subsequently. It is a well-known principle of law that a man has the right to inflict in self-defence any injury not greater than that which he expects to be inflicted on himself if he offers no defence, and the conclusion I have arrived at in this particular instance is that, whatever injuries the Gurkhas may have been responsible for, these were not excessive in a situation where kid-glove methods might have led to far more serious trouble. The whole incident did not occupy more than a few minutes, and it occurred suddenly and under grave provocation to a body of men who were trying to carry out the duties allotted to them. After careful consideration of the whole evidence given before me, I have come to the following conclusions:—

- (1) That the use of the Gurkha Military Police in the circumstance was quite justified; this is, in fact, admitted in the evidence of Babu Annada Charan Dutta, M.A., B.L., M.L.C. (witness No. 26).
- (2) That their action in driving back the disorderly crowd from the immediate precincts of the railway station was within their prescribed duty of preserving order.
- (3) That the said action was not a deliberate and unprovoked attack on inoffensive persons, but was taken on the spur of the moment under grave provocation from an aggressive crowd, and was justified by the necessities of the situation.
- (4) That any injuries that may have been caused did not exceed their right of private defence, and were necessary in order to preserve the public peace and to prevent possible further trouble.
- (5) That the District Magistrate, Superintendent of Police and Additional Magistrate were not present at or near the spot when the incident occurred.

CHITTAGONG, the 25th November 1921.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Special Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1921-22.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1919.20, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0.4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to the total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on, has, in the five years ending 1919.20, averaged (a) 42.3 and 16.0 per cent., respectively.)

Explanatory.—This special forecast deals with the final estimates of acreage and yield of the wheat crop of this Presidency and is published as a special case under Government orders. The usual final forecast will be published in May as in previous years.

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the second forecast in the end of February last, the crop is reported to have further deteriorated in the districts of Murshidabad, Dinajpur, Pabna, Mymensingh and Faridpur as a consequence of the prolonged drought. The slight rain that fell in some places in the end of January and beginning of February was too late and inadequate to improve the situation. On the whole, the season may be regarded as an unfavourable one for the crop.

Area sown.—According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total area under wheat amounts to 124,100 acres against 116,900 acres reported both in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—From the District Officers' estimates, the provincial outturn works out at 67 per cent. of the normal this year, against 84 and 86 per cent. respectively in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Taking the normal yield to be $8\frac{1}{2}$ maunds per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province is estimated at about 26,000 tons against 30,700 and 31,400 tons respectively in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following is published for general information.

H. E. SPRY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

No. 116A., dated Delhi, the 9th February 1922.

Order—By the Government of India, Finance Department.

With the previous sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to issue the following general orders under rule 16 of the devolution rules:—

SECTION I.—Short title and date of effect

1. These orders may be called the Treasury Orders, and they shall come into force with effect from the 1st March 1922.

SECTION II.—Definitions.

2. In these orders:—

- (a) The Bank means the Imperial Bank of India or any branch of the Imperial Bank of India.
- (b) Collector means the chief officer in charge of the revenue administration of a district.
- (c) Principal Auditor is used in the sense in which it is defined in the rules made under section 96-D of the Government of India Act.
- (d) Treasury includes a sub-treasury.
- (e) Treasury Officer means the officer in immediate executive charge of a treasury.

SECTION III.—Location of moneys standing in the public account.

3. Moneys standing in the public account must be either retained in a treasury or deposited in the Bank. The conditions under which they are deposited in the Bank are governed by the terms of the agreement of the Secretary of State in Council with the Bank.

SECTION IV.—General system of treasury control.

4. Unless in any case the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Auditor-General, otherwise direct, there shall be in every district a treasury under the charge of a treasury officer. If moneys standing in the public account are, in any district, not deposited in the Bank, the treasury of that district shall be divided into two departments: that of the accounts, under the charge of an accountant, and that of the cash, under the charge of a treasurer.

5. In any treasury in which a Government servant of the Indian Audit Department has not been appointed, as such, to be treasury officer, the following orders will apply:—

(a) The treasury shall be in the general charge of the Collector, who may entrust the immediate executive control to a treasury officer subordinate to him but may not divest himself of administrative control. He shall be responsible for the proper observance of these orders and for the punctual submission of all returns required from the treasury by the Governor-General in Council.

(b) The duty of verifying and certifying the monthly cash balance, if any, in the treasury, and of submitting monthly accounts in such form or forms and after such verification as the Auditor-General may prescribe, shall be undertaken by the Collector or by such other officer as the Governor in Council may specify. It must be performed by the Collector in person at least once in every period of six months.

(c) A change of incumbent of the office of Collector shall at once be reported to the principal auditor concerned by the in-coming Collector, who shall certify to the principal auditor the amount of the cash balance, if any, which he has taken over. The certificate shall be submitted in such form and after such verification as the Auditor-General may prescribe.

6. In any treasury in which a Government servant of the Indian Audit Department has been appointed, as such, to be treasury officer, the duties of the Collector in relation to the custody of moneys in the treasury shall be such as the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Governor-General in Council, may specify.

SECTION V.—Payment of Government moneys into the public account.

7. Except as provided in order 8, all moneys received by Government servants in their official capacity, other than moneys withdrawn from the public account under the provisions of section VIII below, shall without undue delay be paid in full into a treasury or into the Bank and shall be included in the general balances of Government. Departmental receipts shall not be appropriated to meet departmental expenditure except with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

8. In certain exceptional cases, Government servants may be permitted to open a separate account with a bank and to pay into it moneys received by them in their official capacity. The conditions on which such permission may be given are detailed in Appendix A.

9. (a) The procedure to be adopted by Government servants in paying into treasuries moneys derived from sources of provincial revenue and by treasuries in receiving such moneys and granting receipts for them shall be such as may be specified by the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Auditor-General.

(b) The procedure to be adopted by Government servants in paying into treasuries moneys not derived from sources of provincial revenue and by treasuries in receiving such moneys and granting receipts for them shall be such as may be specified by the Governor-General in Council.

(c) The procedure to be adopted by Government servants in paying moneys into the Bank and by the Bank in receiving such moneys and granting receipts for them shall be such as may be specified by the Governor-General in Council.

SECTION VI.—Custody of moneys standing in the public account.

10. (a) The procedure for the safe custody of moneys in a treasury shall be such as the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Governor-General in Council, may specify.

(b) The Bank is responsible for the safe custody of Government moneys deposited in the Bank.

SECTION VII.—Transfer of moneys standing in the public account.

11. The transfer of Government moneys from one treasury to another, and between the currency chest balance and treasury balance of a treasury and between a treasury and the Bank shall be governed by such instructions as the Controller of the Currency may issue in this behalf. It shall not be subject to the orders in section VIII below.

SECTION VIII.—Withdrawal of moneys from the public account.

12. Definition.—In this section withdrawal means the withdrawal of funds from the public account for expenditure on provincial subjects. The procedure to be adopted by Government servants in withdrawing funds from the public account for expenditure on central subjects shall be such as may be specified by the Governor-General in Council.

13. General rule.—Unless in any case the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Auditor-General, otherwise direct, moneys may not be withdrawn from the public account without the written permission of the treasury officer or of a Government servant of the Indian Audit Department authorised in this behalf by the Auditor-General.

14. Power of a principal auditor.—A principal auditor may, subject to the general control of the Auditor-General, permit withdrawal for any purpose.

15. Instructions to treasury officers.—(a) A treasury officer may permit withdrawal for the following purposes :—

- (i) To pay sums due by Government to the drawing officer.
- (ii) To place the drawing officer in funds to meet claims likely to be presented against Government in the immediate future by
 - (1) other Government servants or
 - (2) private parties.
- (iii) To enable the drawing officer to supply funds to another Government servant from which to meet similar claims.
- (iv) To pay direct from the treasury sums due by Government to a private party.

(b) Unless in any case it be otherwise expressly ordered by a principal auditor, a treasury officer shall not permit withdrawal for any purpose not specified in clause (a) of this order.

16. Except as provided in orders 23 and 24 below, a treasury officer shall not permit withdrawal for any purpose unless the claim for withdrawal is presented by such person and in such form, and has been satisfactorily submitted by the treasury officer to such checks, as the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Auditor-General, may specify.

17. A treasury officer shall not honour a claim which he considers to be disputable. He shall require the claimant to refer it to the principal auditor responsible for the audit of the payment.

18. Except under the general or special orders of the Governor in Council, a payment shall be made in the district in which the claim arises.

19. The leave salary of a gazetted Government servant, who draws his leave-salary in India, may be paid in any district in India. The leave-salary of a non-gazetted Government servant may be paid in that district only in which his pay could be drawn if he were on duty.

20. Pensions payable in India may be paid in any district in India.

21. No withdrawal shall be permitted in order to meet the pay, leave-salary or allowances of a gazetted Government servant, or a reward or honorarium payable to a gazetted Government servant, or any pension payable from general revenues, until an audit officer has intimated the rate at which payment should be made.

22. No withdrawal shall be permitted in order to meet the first of any series of payments in a district of pay or allowances to a Government servant, other than a person newly appointed to Government service, unless the claim be supported by a last-pay certificate in such form as may be prescribed by the Auditor-General.

23. In case of urgent necessity, a Collector may require a treasury officer to make a payment in contravention of order 16, 17, 18, 19, 21 or 22 above; provided that the Collector records an order in writing and immediately sends a copy of the order, together with an explanation of the circumstances which rendered it necessary, to the principal auditor who will audit the payment. The treasury officer also shall intimate the payment to the principal auditor.

24. A treasury officer may correct an arithmetical inaccuracy or an obvious mistake in any bill presented to him for payment, provided that he intimates to the drawing officer the correction which he makes.

25. Instructions to drawing officers.—A Government servant who is authorised to withdraw moneys by means of cheques shall notify to the treasury officer or to the local officials of the Bank, as the case may be, the numbers of the cheque books which from time to time he proposes to use and of the cheques which they contain.

26. When a Government servant who is authorised to draw or counter-sign cheques or bill payable at a treasury or the Bank makes over charge of his office to another, he must send a specimen of the relieving Government servant's signature to the treasury officer or the local officials of the Bank, as the case may be.

SECTION IX.—Responsibility for moneys withdrawn.

27. (a) A Government servant supplied with funds for expenditure shall be responsible for such funds until an account of them has been rendered to the satisfaction of the principal auditor concerned. In cases in which the acquittances of the actual payees are not sent for audit the Government servant supplied with funds shall be held personally responsible for seeing that payments are made to the persons entitled to receive them.

(b) If any doubt arises as to the identity of the Government servant by whom an account of such funds shall be rendered, it shall be decided by the Governor in Council.

28. A treasury officer receiving an intimation from an audit officer that moneys have been incorrectly withdrawn and that a certain sum should be recovered from a drawing officer must effect the recovery without delay and without regard to any correspondence undertaken or contemplated with reference to the retrenchment order; and the drawing officer must without delay repay the sum by such method as the audit officer may prescribe.

SECTION X.—General Exception.

29. A Governor in Council may not, without the sanction of the Governor General in Council, so exercise any power conferred upon him by these orders as to impose upon the Bank in connection with Government business any responsibility which the Bank is not liable to undertake at the time when these orders come into force.

APPENDIX A.

The following are the rules which govern the opening by a Government servant of a separate account with a bank for the deposit of moneys received by him in his official capacity :—

(I) A Governor or a Lieutenant-Governor may permit his Private or Military Secretary to open an account for the deposit of funds under the personal control of the Governor or Lieutenant-Governor.

(II) A Secretary to a Government may open an account in his own name, provided that he records a written order stating the nature of the moneys to be kept in the account and sends a copy of that order to the principal Auditor concerned.

(III) Accounts may be opened without restriction by the following classes of Government servant :—

An Administrator-General.

An Official Trustee, Assignee or Receiver.

A Sheriff.

The Solicitors to the Government of India and of Madras.

An Accountant-General of a High Court or the Account Officer of a High Court on the Original Side.

(IV) Except as provided in rules (I) to (III), no Government servant may open an account with a bank for the deposit of moneys received in his official capacity without the previous sanction of a principal Auditor. The following conditions govern the grant of such sanction :—

(a) Permission may be given in all cases in which the moneys, although received by a Government servant in his official capacity, do not form part of general revenues.

(b) Permission may not be given in the following cases :—

(i) Where the moneys in question have been withdrawn from the public account, or are received in order to be paid into the public account, either as revenue or as a deposit.

(ii) Where the moneys form part of a balance of an account submitted for audit to the Indian Audit Department, or the receipts or outgoings represent transactions of which the Government servant concerned is bound to submit an account to the Indian Audit Department.

(iii) Where the moneys must, under any law or any order of Government or a Court of Justice, be deposited with, or held in trust by, any Government servant in his official capacity.

(iv) Where the moneys have been advanced to a Government servant for contingent expenditure or to a civil officer for public works expenditure.

(c) In cases not covered by clauses (a) and (b) of this rule, permission should not be given except upon some definite ground of convenience to the public service. The personal convenience of the Government servant concerned does not constitute such a ground.

(V) All accounts opened under these rules must be opened with a branch of the Imperial Bank of India, where such a branch is available. Where no such branch exists an account may be opened with any other bank; provided that the Government servant opening it remains personally responsible for the moneys as though they were in his personal custody.

Repeals.

16. The Indian Official Secrets Act, 1889, and the Indian Official Secrets (Amendment) Act, 1904, are hereby repealed.

XV of 1889. V of 1904.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The position in regard to the protection of official secrets in India is briefly as follows. The provisions of the law which are now in force are :—

- (a) An act of the Legislature in India—the Indian Official Secrets Act, 1889, as amended by the Indian Official Secrets (Amendment) Act, 1904; and
- (b) A Statute of Parliament,—the Official Secrets Act, 1911 (1 & 2 George V, c. 28).

The provisions of the British Statute have, as a result of experience gained during the War, been considerably modified by the enactment of the Official Secrets Act, 1920, but the latter Statute does not apply to British India.

2. It has for some time past been recognised that it is unsatisfactory to have two separate laws in force simultaneously in India. Further, although the British Act of 1911 is in force in India, difficulties arise in applying it because of the use in it of English common law terms and so on. For these reasons it is desirable that there should be a single consolidated Act applicable to Indian conditions, and the desirability of this has been emphasised by the passing of the British Act of 1920 which has considerably amended the Act of 1911, but is not applicable to India.

3. The provisions of the British Act of 1911 are more effective, particularly in the matter of the protection of military secrets than the Indian enactments, and they have been further strengthened by the enactment of the amending Statute of 1920, which is based on experience gained during the War. It is considered desirable, therefore, that the law in India should be assimilated to that in force in the United Kingdom, and the object of this Bill is to consolidate the provisions of the British Acts of 1911 and 1920 and to enact them in a form suitable for India.

4. As this Bill is a purely consolidating measure, it is not necessary to deal with the clauses in detail, but it may be mentioned that it is proposed to omit provisions on the lines of sections 4 and 5 of the Act of 1920, as it is considered that the matters dealt with in these sections are sufficiently covered by the provisions of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, and the Indian Post Office Act, 1898.

5. If this Bill is passed it will not be necessary to retain the Indian Acts, and provision is therefore made in clause 15 for their repeal.

27B. The references to a criminal tribe in sections 4, 5, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 27A, shall be deemed to be references to a criminal tribe or any part thereof."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In December 1919 a conference was held at Delhi, attended by representatives of the Provinces of British India and of Indian States, to consider the future administration of the Criminal Tribes Act, 1911 (III of 1911). The provisions of the Act were examined in detail and a number of amendments were recommended by the conference. These recommendations were examined by the Government of India, and the amendments proposed by them were referred to local Governments for opinion. They have now been re-examined by the Government of India in the light of the opinions of the local Governments, and the final conclusions are embodied in the draft Bill.

2. A number of the amendments are merely formal or are designed to remove minor defects which experience of the working of the Act has brought to light. It is not necessary to explain these in detail. The changes of substance which it is proposed to include are dealt with individually in the following paragraphs.

3. Clause 2 of the Bill.—The object of this clause is to extend the application of the Act to the Presidency-towns and to Rangoon. The necessity for this amendment was urged by the Government of Bengal as far back as 1914, when they complained that the Act provided no machinery for the registration of the criminal tribes residing in a Presidency-town, and the proposal is strongly supported by the other local Governments concerned.

4. Clause 5 of the Bill.—Under section 13 of the Act, as it stands at present, the orders of the local Government are required before a criminal tribe or part thereof which has been restricted to or settled in a specified area by a notification under section 11 can be moved to another area. It has been represented that this causes inconvenience, both from the point of view of those who have to administer the Act, and from the point of view of the members of the criminal tribes themselves, who not infrequently desire to move with the object of visiting relatives or of bettering their chances of employment. It has been suggested that the local authorities should be authorised to transfer criminal tribes or members thereof within the same district, and clause 5 (read with the new section 27B which it is proposed to insert by clause 11 of the Bill) is intended to give effect to this suggestion.

5. Clause 6 of the Bill.—The object of this clause is to provide for the transfer of a criminal tribe from one province to another. Cases in which it is desirable that there should be such power are—

- (a) cases where a local Government finds it necessary to notify a tribe which has wandered into its jurisdiction from the province to which it really belongs; and
- (b) cases where employment is found for a criminal tribe in a province other than that in which it has been notified. The clause provides that this power shall not be exercised save with the consent of the local Government of the province to which the tribe is to be transferred.

6. Clause 7 of the Bill.—The main object of this clause is to provide that the provisions of the Act shall apply to a tribe which has been transferred to another province in exercise of the power which it proposed to confer by clause 6.

7. Clause 9(a) of the Bill.—This clause is intended to effect a delegation of power similar to that provided for in clause 5. Great inconvenience is caused by the necessity of referring to the local Government any case in which it is proposed to take action under section 18 of the Act. Provision is made for the delegation of powers under that section to the local authorities.

8. Clause 10 of the Bill.—The object of this clause is to authorise the arrest without a warrant of members of criminal tribes who commit offences punishable under section 22(2) of the Act. A recommendation to this effect was made by the conference, and the suggestion has been accepted by the local Governments.

9. Clause 11 of the Bill.—The intention of this clause is to add two new sections to the Act as 27A and 27B. The proposed new section 27B is formal, and provides that the term "criminal tribe" shall include any part of such tribe. The object of the proposed new section 27A is to provide for the transfer of criminal tribes from British India to Indian States. It is considered desirable, for the reasons for which it is proposed that provision should be made for transfer from one province to another, that there should also be provision for transfer from British India to Indian States and vice-versa. The Act, being an enactment of the Indian Legislature, can of course provide only for transfer from British India. It will be observed that the proposed new section is permissive in form and that it allows transfer only to States in which the local Government is satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the restriction or settlement of criminal tribes.

CHAPTER IV.

CONDITIONS OF SUPPLY BY LICENSEE.

23. (1) A licensee shall not connect the conductors and fittings on a consumer's premises with his work unless he is reasonably satisfied that the connection will not at the time of making the connection cause a leakage from those conductors and fittings exceeding one five-thousandth part of the maximum supply demanded on the consumer's premises.

Precautions against leakage before connection.

(2) When a licensee declines to make a connection in accordance with sub-rule (1) he shall serve upon the consumer a notice stating his reason for so declining.

24. (1) If at any time a licensee has reasons to believe that a leakage, likely injuriously to affect the use of energy by the licensee or by other persons, exists in the premises of a consumer then the licensee may give the consumer reasonable notice in writing, that he desires to inspect and test such wires and fittings belonging to the consumer as form part of the circuit.

Leakage on consumer's premises.

(2) If the consumer does not give all reasonable facilities for inspection and testing, or if a leakage from the consumer's conductors exceeding one five-thousandth part of the maximum supply demanded on the premises is discovered, the licensee may forthwith discontinue the supply of energy to the premises in question, giving immediate notice of the discontinuance to the consumer, and need not recommence the supply until the cause of the leakage has been removed.

25. (1) Where a consumer is dissatisfied with the action of a licensee under rule 23 or rule 24 in refusing or in discontinuing, or in not recommencing the supply of energy to his premises, the conductors and fittings of such consumer shall, on his application and on payment of the prescribed fee, be tested for the existence of leakage by an Electric Inspector or other officer appointed to assist an Electric Inspector.

(2) Any such test as is referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be carried out within forty-eight hours of the application to make the same or of the payment of the prescribed fee, whichever is later.

(3) If the Electric Inspector or other officer, as aforesaid, on testing finds that the leakage from the consumer's conductors is less than one five-thousandth part of the maximum supply demanded on the premises, the Electric Inspector shall notify the licensee; and the licensee shall, within twenty-four hours, commence or continue the supply of energy:

Provided that in this case the licensee shall refund the amount of the prescribed fee to the consumer.

(4) This rule shall be endorsed on every notice given under the provisions of rule 23 or rule 24.

26. Before commencing to supply energy to a consumer, a licensee shall declare to the consumer the pressure at which he undertakes to give the supply; and the pressure shall not, without the written consent of the consumer or the previous sanction of the Local Government, vary therefrom by more than 5 per cent. in the case of low or medium pressure, or by more than 12½ per cent. in the case of high pressure.

27. Before commencing to supply energy to a consumer by means of an alternating current, a licensee shall declare to the consumer the frequency at which he undertakes to give the supply; and the frequency shall not, without the written consent of the consumer or the previous sanction of the Local Government, vary therefrom by more than 4 per cent.

28. A consumer may, after giving not less than twenty-four hours' notice to the licensee, enter any testing station established by the licensee, in accordance with clause XIII of the Schedule to the Act, and may examine the records of the tests made therein, and he may also take copies of or extracts from such records on payment to the licensee of a sum of one rupee for every such examination of a record covering a period of twenty-four hours or any part of twenty-four hours.

29. A licensee may affix a seal to any meter, maximum-demand indicator, or other apparatus placed upon a consumer's premises in accordance with section 26 of the Act, and to any cut-out placed upon a consumer's premises in accordance with rule 38, and no person shall break such seal without giving the licensee, and, where the meter is the property of the consumer, the consumer also, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing.

30. Copies of plans or sections such as are referred to in clause XVI of the Schedule to the Act shall be supplied by the licensee to every applicant at a price not exceeding one rupee per square foot.

31. The point at which the supply of energy by a licensee to a consumer shall be deemed to commence shall—

(a) where the amount of energy supplied to a consumer or the electrical quantity contained in the supply is ascertained by meter, be in respect of a conductor from the service-line which passes through the meter the point at which such conductor enters the meter, and in respect of a conductor from the service-line which does not pass through the meter, the point on such conductor nearest to the meter;

- (b) where the amount of energy supplied to a consumer or the electrical quantity contained in the supply is not ascertained by meter, be the point at which the cut-out is inserted in the service-line by the licensee in accordance with rule 38.

Accounts and forms.

32. (1) Every licensee, unless exempted in accordance with section 11 of the Act, shall cause the accounts of his undertaking to be made up to the thirty-first day of December or the thirty-first day of March, at the option of such licensee, or to such other date as the Local Government may approve.

(2) Such licensee shall prepare and render an annual statement of his accounts in accordance with the provisions of the said section within a period of six months from such date as aforesaid, or such extended period as the Local Government may authorize after it is satisfied that the time allowed is insufficient owing to any cause not within the control of the licensee.

(3) The accounts shall be made up as far as circumstances permit in one or other of the prescribed forms set out in Annexures IV and V to these rules according as the licensee is or is not a local authority and may, at the option of the licensee, be rendered either in British Indian or in British sterling currency:

Provided that the Local Government may, by special or general order, direct that the accounts of any undertaking shall be made up in any form it may direct in such order.

33. Requisitions under sub-clause (4) of clause V or sub-clause (5) of clause VI, as the case may be, of the Schedule to the Act shall be made in the form set out in Annexure VI or Annexure VII to these rules.

35. Instructions, both in English and in the Vernacular of the district, for the restoration of persons suffering from electric shock, shall be affixed in a conspicuous place in every generating station and sub-station and copies shall be obtainable from every Electric Inspector at a price to be fixed by the Local Government.

Precautions to be adopted by licensee.

36. A licensee shall adopt efficient means for protecting any portion of an electric supply-line or any support, guard-wire or bearer-wire of an electric supply-line which is exposed in such a position as to be liable to injury from lightning.

37. A licensee shall be responsible that all electric supply-lines, fittings and apparatus belonging to him, or under his control, which may be on a consumer's premises, are maintained in a safe condition, and shall take all due precautions to avoid risk of causing fire on such premises by reason of his electric supply-lines, fittings or apparatus or any defect therein.

38. A licensee shall insert a suitable cut-out in each service-line (other than an earthed neutral conductor or the earthed external conductor of a concentric cable) within consumer's premises, in an accessible position as close as possible to the point of entry. Such cut-out shall be contained within an adequately enclosed fire-proof receptacle:

Provided that, where more than one consumer is supplied through a common service-line, each individual consumer (if he so requires) shall be given an independent cut-out at the point of junction to the common service.

39. The following provisions shall apply to service-lines and any apparatus in connection therewith on a consumer's premises, viz. :—

Service-line on consumer's premises

- (1) All such lines, being underground lines, and all apparatus in connection therewith placed by a licensee shall be so insulated and protected as to be secure under all ordinary conditions against electrical, mechanical, chemical, or other injury to the insulation, and against access of moisture.
- (2) From the point where any service-line enters a building, or becomes accessible without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance, such line and all apparatus in connection therewith, shall be insulated and protected in the manner prescribed by sub-rule (1).
- (3) Any metal forming part of the electric circuit of any such line shall not, unless connected with earth, be exposed so that it can be touched.

Precautions to be adopted by owners.

40. When an owner generates or uses energy—

Precautions to be adopted by owners

- (1) where bare conductors are used in a building, they shall be inaccessible without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance and shall have switches provided for rendering them dead whenever necessary;
- (2) no repair of any part of any electrical apparatus shall be effected, while the part is charged to a pressure exceeding low pressure, except by an authorised person;
- (3) the supply of energy to every vehicle, travelling crane or the like shall be efficiently controlled by a suitable switch, so that by its means all pressure can be cut off from all apparatus concerned and from any device in connection therewith;
- (4) trailing cables for portable motors shall be specially flexible, heavily insulated and protected from mechanical injury; where the protection is by means of metallic covering, the covering shall be in metallic connection with the frame of the motor.

Electric supply-lines and apparatus.

41. Every electric supply-line shall be maintained in a safe condition, as regards both electrical and mechanical conditions, by the person to whom the same belongs.

42. All circuits and apparatus shall be so arranged by the person to whom the same belong that there shall be no danger of any part thereof becoming accidentally charged to any pressure beyond the limits of pressure for which it is intended.

Accidental charge.

43. Where an electric supply-line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, such precautions as an Electric Inspector may approve shall be taken by the licensee or the owner, as the case may be, against the possibility of the metallic substance becoming charged:

Crossing metallic substances.

Provided that, where the electric supply-line was laid or erected previous to such metallic substance, the cost incurred in taking such precautions shall be refunded to the licensee or owner, as the case may be, by the person to whom the metallic substance belongs.

44. Every electric supply-line (other than the earthed neutral conductor of any system or the earthed external conductor of a concentric cable) shall be protected, by the person to whom the same belong, by a suitable cut-out.

Cut-out.

45. All metal casings or metallic coverings containing or protecting any electric supply-line or apparatus shall be connected with earth, by the person to whom the same belong, and shall be so joined and connected across all junction-boxes and other openings as to make good mechanical and electrical connection throughout their whole length:

- (a) the connection with earth of the neutral conductor, shall be made at one point only on each distinct system, namely, at the generating station or sub-station, or both, as the case may be, and the insulation of the system shall be maintained at all other parts;
- (b) the current from the neutral conductor to earth shall, in the case of a licensee's direct current-distributing system, be continuously recorded, and, if at any time it exceeds one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current, steps shall immediately be taken to improve the insulation of the system;
- (c) the connection with earth referred to in clause (a) of rule 48 shall not be made by the aid of, nor shall it be in contact with any water-main, gas-main or similar main not belonging to the licensee or owner, as the case may be, except with the consent of the owner thereof and of the Electric Inspector; a resistance, not exceeding 20 ohms, may be inserted between the neutral bus-bar and earth, and, if so inserted, it shall be of sufficient cross-sectional area to carry the current which would pass should an outer or phase conductor become accidentally connected with earth;
- (d) the connection with earth shall not be removed except for the purpose of testing, in which case it shall be made good again as soon as such test is finished, and a record of any such disconnection shall be kept by the licensee or owner, as the case may be;

Provided that the earth connection shall not be removed, in a licensee's system except between 1 A.M. and 3 A.M. or, in an owner's system, while the generator is in operation or energy is being used.

49. The neutral point of the star-winding of each distinct polyphase multi-wire system may be either connected with earth or insulated.

- (d) the supply to every apparatus shall be efficiently controlled by suitable linked switches, of requisite capacity to carry and break the current, in each conductor, placed near the apparatus in such a position as to be readily handled by the operator, so that by their means all pressure can be cut off from the apparatus concerned and from any device in connection therewith;
- (e) the word "CAUTION," both in English and in the vernacular, shall be affixed in a conspicuous position near every generator (being the property of an owner) and near every motor, and every controlling or regulating apparatus in connection with the same.

52. Where the conductors of a multi-wire system between any of which there is medium or high pressure, are brought into a building for utilization at low pressure, the supply shall be delivered to two or more pairs of terminals, and the wiring from those terminals shall be kept separate and distinct. If in any such case, two or more switches, terminals or cutouts between any of which there is a difference of pressure exceeding 250 volts, are fitted within reach of one another, all their live parts shall be accessible only to authorised persons.

53. Where the pressure is medium or high, there shall be, in front of every main switchboard a space of not less than 3 feet in width, and, if there are any attachments or bare connections at the back of the switchboard, the space (if any) behind the switchboard shall be either less than 9 inches, or more than 30 inches in width, measured from the furthest outstanding part of any attachment or conductor. 56. (1) A high pressure circuit, other than an aerial line, shall not be brought into use, unless the insulation of every part thereof has withstood the continuous application, during one minute, in the case of every electric supply-line, machine, device or apparatus, of a pressure 100 per cent. greater than the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use; and the licensee or owner, as the case may be, shall duly record the results of each test and shall forward the result to an Electric Inspector:

Provided, first, that the testing pressure shall in no case be less than 2,000 volts:

Provided, secondly, that an Electric Inspector may, if he thinks fit, accept the manufacturer's certified tests as complying with this rule:

Provided that where two single-core cables protected by metallic covering bonded together in accordance with clause (c) of this rule are used for a circuit, the conductivity of each of the said metallic coverings at all parts and at all joints shall be at least equal to 25 per cent. of the conductivity of the conductor enclosed thereby.

- (e) Cables and conductors where joined up to motors, transformers, switchgear, and other apparatus, shall be installed so that (i) they are mechanically protected by securely attaching the metallic covering to the apparatus; and (ii) the insulating material at each cable and is efficiently sealed so as to prevent the diminution of its insulating properties. Where necessary to prevent abrasion or to secure gas-tightness, there shall be properly constructed glands or bushes.
- (f) Conductors used at low pressure shall be either conveyed in pipes or casings or suspended from efficient insulators, or fastened to such insulators with some non-conducting material which will not cut the covering and will prevent contact with any timbering or metal work. If separate uncased wires are used, they shall be kept at least one and a half inches apart and shall not be brought together except at lamps or switches or fittings.

97. (1) Flexible cables for portable apparatus shall be two-core or multicore and covered with insulating material which shall be efficiently protected from mechanical damage.

Flexible cables.

If a flexible metallic covering be used either as the outer conductor of a concentric system or as a means of protection from mechanical damage the same shall not be used by itself to form an earth conductor for the portable apparatus, but it may be used for that purpose in conjunction with an earthing core or other earthing wire.

(2) Every flexible cable for portable apparatus shall be connected to the system and to the portable apparatus itself by a properly constructed connector.

(3) At every point where flexible cables are joined to main cables a switch capable of entirely cutting off the pressure from the flexible cables shall be provided.

If necessary for the proper fulfilment of the duties detailed in this rule, one or more assistants to the electrician shall be appointed by the aforesaid authority.

(2) Every person appointed to work, supervise, examine, or adjust any apparatus shall be competent for the work that he is set to do. No person except the electrician or a competent person acting under his supervision, shall undertake any work where, in order adequately to avoid danger, technical knowledge or experience is required.

(3) The electrician shall be responsible for the proper performance by himself or by an assistant appointed under sub-rule (1) of the following duties, namely :—

- (i) the thorough examination of all apparatus (including the testing of earth conductors and metallic coverings for continuity) as often as may be necessary to prevent danger; and
- (ii) the examination and testing of all new apparatus, and of all apparatus re-erected in the mine before it is put into service in a new position :

Provided that in the absence of the electrician for more than three days, the owner, agent or manager of the mine or the agent or owner of one or more oil-wells in an oil-field shall appoint in writing an efficient substitute.

(4) The electrician shall keep at the mine or oil-field a log-book made up of daily log-sheets kept in the forms set out, respectively, for mines and oil-fields, in Annexure X to these rules. The said log-book shall be produced at any time on request to an Inspector of Mines or an Electric Inspector.

(7) Adequate precautions shall be taken by earthing or other suitable means to discharge electrically any conductor or apparatus if there is danger therefrom before such conductor or apparatus is handled, and to prevent any conductor or apparatus from being accidentally or inadvertently electrically charged when persons are working thereon. While lamps are being changed the pressure shall be cut off :

Provided that this sub-rule shall not apply to the cleaning of commutators and slip rings working at low or medium pressures.

(8) The person authorised to work an electrically driven coal-cutter or other portable machine shall not leave the machine while it is working, and shall, before leaving the place where such machine is working, ensure that the pressure is cut off from the flexible trailing-cable which supplies such machine. Trailing-cables shall not be dragged along by the machine when working.

(9) Every flexible cable shall be examined periodically by the person authorised to work the machine, and, if such cable is used with a portable machine, he shall examine it at least once in each shift. If such cable is found to be damaged or defective, it shall forthwith be replaced by a spare cable in good and substantial repair. No damaged or defective cable shall be further used underground until it has been properly repaired.

- (b) All motors shall be constructed, so that, when any part is live, all rubbing contacts (such as commutators and ship-rings) are so arranged or enclosed as to prevent open sparking.
- (c) The pressure shall be switched off the apparatus forthwith if open sparking occurs, and during the whole time that examination or adjustment disclosing parts liable to open sparking is being made. The pressure shall not be switched on again until the apparatus has been examined by the electrician or one of his duly appointed assistants and the defect (if any) has been remedied or the adjustment made.
- (d) Every electric lamp shall be enclosed in an air-tight fitting and the lamp globe itself shall be hermetically sealed.

(2) If at any time in any place in such mine the percentage of inflammable gas in the general body of the air is found to exceed one and a quarter, the supply of energy shall at once be cut off from all cables and apparatus in that place and shall not be recontinued so long as the percentage of inflammable gas exceeds that amount.

The courses of lectures commence in July and continue until the following April, except the course of Accountancy and Auditing, which extend over two years.

(a) Book-keeping (Elementary).—Students having a satisfactory knowledge of English and Arithmetic are admitted. Text-book—Arthur Fieldhouse's Complete Book-keeping, up to 100 exercises including Partnership accounts. The fee for the full session, July to April, is Rs. 24, payable in eight monthly instalments of Rs. 3 each. Classes are held three times a week from 6 to 7 P.M.

(b) Book-keeping (Advanced).—Students who have passed the Elementary Book-keeping Examination, or who can give satisfactory proof of their knowledge of Elementary Book-keeping up to the requisite standard, are admitted. Text-book—Complete Book-keeping, by Arthur Fieldhouse. The fee for the full session, July to April, is Rs. 32, payable in eight monthly instalments of Rs. 4 each. Classes are held twice a week from 6 to 7 P.M.

(c) Shorthand (Theory).—Pitman's Shorthand is the system taught. Students having a sufficient knowledge of English are admitted at the beginning of the session in July. Students are also admitted in December, provided they have already a sufficient knowledge of Shorthand to enable them to appreciate the lectures in the session, December to April.

The minimum speed required to pass the examination is 80 words per minute. The class is held daily from 5 P.M.

The fee for the session, July to November, is Rs. 12, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 3 each. The fee for the session, December to April, is Rs. 16, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 4 each.

(d) Shorthand (Speed).—Students having a speed of 60 words per minute are admitted in July, and the class practice is from 60 to 120 words per minute.

Students having a minimum speed of 80 words per minute are admitted in December, and the class practice is from 80 to 140 words per minute.

In the examination the tests are at four grades of speed, 80, 100, 120, 140 words per minute, and at higher speeds if candidates can write more rapidly. Classes are held daily from 6 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

(e) Typewriting.—Beginners are admitted in July. Students having a minimum speed of 20 words per minute are admitted in December. The minimum speed required to pass the examination at the end of April is 35 words per minute. Certificates are issued for 35, 40, 45, 50, 55, 60 words per minute. For each of the speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating. Classes are held at 5, 6 and 7 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

Combination of the above subjects and reduction of fee.—If a student simultaneously takes up two or three of the subjects (a) to (e), a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the fees payable by him will be granted : for example, if a student is a member of both the Shorthand and the Elementary Book-keeping classes, he will have to pay instalments of Rs. 2 for each subject instead of Rs. 3 for the session, July to December.

(f), (g), (h), (i) and (j).—Classes are formed in these subjects if a sufficient number of candidates apply for admission. The fee for each subject is Rs. 3 for each series of ten lectures.

(k) Accountancy and Auditing.—There are two courses of year each for ordinary students, or one year for those who are already practising as Auditors, to prepare candidates for the Government examination of Diploma in Accountancy, which qualifies them to obtain the Government license to practise as Auditors. Students of this class have to attend Book-keeping and Mercantile Law classes, for which no extra fee has to be paid. The fee is Rs. 144, payable in advance in four half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of ordinary students and Rs. 72 in two half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of those who are practising as Auditors and hold a provisional license granted by Government.

2. Examinations.—The examination in subjects (a) to (j) is held at the end of April; at the end of the year's course, under the control of the Government Commercial Institute Board, and successful candidates receive certificates signed by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and countersigned by the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The examination fee for each subject is Rs. 5.

3. Attendance.—Strict regularity and punctuality of attendance are observed. Students must attend 75 per cent of the lectures in order to appear at the examination. Classes are not held in the evening on Saturday.

4. Standard of Admission.—Candidates who have attended the lectures of the day course are eligible for admission. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join.

5. Prizes.—Prizes of Rs. 50 each are offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the best candidates from the evening classes in subjects (b), (d), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j). Three medals are offered by the Remington Typewriter Co. to the best three students of either the day or evening classes in the Typewriting examination.

6. Admission.—Candidates for admission should send in their applications and register their names, with a deposit of fees, before the end of June. Candidates who desire to be admitted in December should apply before the end of November.

TRIENNIAL RESOLUTION ON THE OPERATIONS OF THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 11th APRIL 1922.

RESOLUTION—No. 1823M.

READ—

The reports on the operations of the Calcutta Improvement Trust for the years 1918-19, 1919-20 and 1920-21.

1. General.—The Improvement Trust was created in 1912 for the improvement and expansion of Calcutta by opening up congested areas, laying out or altering streets, providing open spaces and for the rehousing of the poorer persons displaced by the execution of improvement schemes. The last triennial resolution referred to the manner in which the work of the Trust has been checked and delayed by the war. Nor did the end of the war bring immediate relief, since engineering materials were still scarce. Moreover, the rise in the rate of interest at which money can be borrowed and the enhanced cost of works, has made the question of finance a pressing one. The development of suburban areas—Cossipore-Chitpore and Maniktola—is no longer possible; it has been decided that the Board should concern itself in the first instance with the construction of main roads in the centre of Calcutta which no other local authority could undertake. Proceeding on this principle the Trust has made substantial progress in the provision of city thoroughfares; the great central avenue scheme is being pushed on the widening of Russa Road is slowly approaching completion and Park Street is already vastly improved, while the important scheme for its extension is making steady progress.

The high cost of building has retarded re-building operations on land sold or exempted by the Trust, and the housing problem in 1920 became most acute. At the same time, a land boom set in; money was cheap and land became a favourite form of investment; the price of land rose to surprising heights. It must be some time before building overtakes the shortage for which the war was responsible.

2. Improvement Schemes.—During the years under review Government sanctioned six improvement schemes; of these two formed the southern section of the great north and south thoroughfares (Central Avenue), one provided for an extensive park which in combination with the fringe area scheme of the Calcutta Corporation will provide splendid recreation grounds for the youth of northern Calcutta, and another scheme provided for the construction of the new main sewer road from Chetla to Ballygunge railway station, which is designed to improve the general drainage of an unhealthy and sparsely populated area.

The first section of the scheme for the improvement of Bara Bazar was published for criticism, but it was held in abeyance pending the alignment of a road system for the whole area. At the time of writing three important series of alignments have been sanctioned and improvement schemes will be taken up in small sections for the 100 acres of almost solid building known as Bara Bazar. The financial question has in this connection assumed special importance; the revenues of the Trust are already mainly earmarked for the long series of improvement and alignment schemes, which have been sanctioned, and if the improvement of Bara Bazar—for which the Trust was primarily constituted—proves costly, its execution could only be financed by the curtailment of the sanctioned programme.

There is, however, reason to believe that many Bara Bazar schemes may yield a profit instead of proving a heavy charge on the revenues of the Trust and after a careful study of the financial position, Government have agreed that the Trust might proceed with its first improvement scheme which will shortly be published; the execution of this scheme will afford data which will enable the Trust to decide whether the transformation of Bara Bazar can be achieved without the curtailment of other part of the general programme or whether a complete revision of the approved schemes will be necessary.

3. Squares and Parks.—In pursuance of the policy of providing open spaces in the north of the town and in the suburbs, the Trust embarked on the selection of sites for parks and squares in Maniktola, Cossipore-Chitpore, Ratan Sarkar Garden Street (Pathuriaghatta), Ramkissen Das Lane (Badurbagan) and Amherst Street.

4. Howrah.—The question of extending the operations of the Trust to Howrah has been the subject of prolonged discussion. Having regard to the urgent necessity of improving Howrah and preventing the growth and perpetuation on the west bank of the Hooghly of conditions which can hereafter be remedied only at enormous expense, the Board of Trustees declared themselves willing to undertake the improvement on suitable financial conditions. As this could not be given effect to without amending the Act, it was decided that a Bill should be prepared; it is hoped that definite proposals for the improvement of Howrah and a draft Bill will shortly be ready.

5. Rehousing Scheme.—For the accommodation of persons displaced by the execution of their schemes, the Trust embarked on the preparation of rehousing schemes and, following the natural tendency of the people of the working class who prefer to live in the sort of hut to which they are accustomed, selected sites were acquired in Beckbagan and Maniktola for the erection of sanitary huts on well-raised plinths. Another site was acquired in Karbala Tank Lane in order to build houses to be let temporarily to persons displaced by improvement schemes. Sanction was also accorded to a scheme for the erection of tenement dwellings and the creation of an open space for the Anglo-Indian population rendered homeless by the section of the Central Avenue to the south of Bow Bazar Street. Land is being acquired in Cossipore-Chitpore for the purpose of providing suitable building sites on which persons of the poorer classes, whose houses have been acquired by the Trust and whose slender means prevent them from purchasing sites in Calcutta, may build new houses under the control of the Trust. The Calcutta Corporation transferred to the Trust the development scheme south of Shambazar Park for reinstating those displaced by improvement schemes in the north of the town. But neither these operations nor the restriction of house rents imposed by the Calcutta Rent Act are sufficient to solve the housing problem in Calcutta. At present, one of the chief obstacles to the expansion and development of Calcutta is the difficulty which building societies and companies experience in obtaining land and securing a firm title. It was on this account that the Calcutta Rents Committee appointed in September 1919 recommended that Government should utilise the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act to acquire land for bodies which had been formed definitely for the provision of housing accommodation. In pursuance of this recommendation a resolution was issued by Government in the year 1920 announcing that they would acquire land under the Land Acquisition Act for approved schemes on behalf and at the cost of registered companies for housing purposes so long as emergent measures are necessary for the development of Calcutta. This resolution had however, subsequently to be withdrawn on account of legal difficulties.

6. Projected public streets.—In order that intending builders—might know clearly how their plans were likely to be affected by the operations of the Trust, as well as to prevent future improvement schemes being blocked by the creation of new buildings, 17 projected public streets were sanctioned, within the alignment of which new buildings cannot be constructed.

7. Finance.—(i) The receipts from the duty on transfer of property, jute tax and the municipal contribution steadily increased. But on the other hand, the pay of the establishment has been revised in view of the increased cost of living; the cost of materials has increased, and in view of the recent land boom, land values are no longer stable. Owing to the scarcity of house accommodation and the hardship caused by evicting householders, the Trust has decided not to carry on demolition of buildings within the area of acquisition until something is done to remedy the house shortage. This delays recoupment by the sale of surplus land. The result is that much capital is locked up in land. The Board decided to raise a loan to carry out its programme of work and was permitted by Government to borrow Rs. 50 lakhs from the Bank of Bengal on collateral security.

(ii) The total income and expenditure under the capital account during the three years ending the 31st March 1921 were, respectively, Rs. 155½ lakhs and Rs. 258 lakhs and those under the revenue account Rs. 118 lakhs and Rs. 25 lakhs. The deficit in the capital account was met from the revenue account which closed with a net balance of Rs. 53 lakhs (as against Rs. 62½ lakhs at the end of 31st March 1918).

8. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) desire to thank Mr. Bompas and the other Trustees for the steady progress which has been made in the improvement of Calcutta in spite of the numerous difficulties which have arisen. Mr. Bompas has been Chairman of the Trust from its very inception and his wide experience and sound judgment proved exceptionally valuable in trying times.

By order of the Government of Bengal
(Ministry of Local Self-Government).

Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads:—

| (a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the Municipality has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency. | The general revision of assessment has just been taken up. In order to improve the financial condition of the Municipality and to make special provision for the instalments of the annual repayment of the proposed loan and to reserve the same for the purpose, it has been resolved to enhance the rate of taxation of the personal tax, from Re. 1 to Re. 1-2 per cent. And it is most probable that more than Rs. 3,000 will be increased at the said assessment, which will come into force from the beginning of the next financial year. |
| (b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the Municipality. | Ditto ditto. |
| (c) A statement of all outstanding loans, specifying, in respect of each loan, the date when taken, the purpose (very briefly), the amount, the annual charges involved and the amount still payable. | There is no other loan of the Municipality. |
| (d) Any explanations in regard to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the Municipality when such position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate. | The ordinary expenditure shown in column 19 of this application, for the year 1920-21, shows an excess over the ordinary income in column 11 of that year. It was due to special circumstances, as explained in the remarks column No. 21 of this application, in the reverse. The normal surplus would have been far higher, had not the Municipality been under the necessity of incurring an expenditure of Rs. 2,265 for the two important and essential projects of (1) extending the trenching grounds and (2) establishment of a Muhammadan burial ground. It is therefore reasonable to exclude this amount of Rs. 2,265 in finding out the normal surplus in column 20 of this application. |

TRENT, G.C.B., G.C.V.O., K.C.M.G., A.D.C.,
Commander-in-Chief in India,

TO

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

ARMY DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith, for the information of the Government of India, a report on the operations of the Waziristan Force for the period 8th May 1920 to 31st March 1921.

REORGANISATION.

2. The despatch by His Excellency General Sir Charles Monro, dated 1st August 1920, dealt with the Mahsud operations up to the dispersal of the Derajat Column on the 7th May 1920.

After the dispersal of the Derajat Column on the 7th May 1920, the system of command and organisation of the Ladha line were altered. By degrees the duties performed by the Inspector-General of Communications and the Line of Communication organisation under him became merged in Force Headquarters and by the 1st May the Inspector-General of Communications and his staff were dispersed, the staff at Force Headquarters being increased to cope with the extra work entailed.

The 62nd Brigade held the section up to Khirgi inclusive the 68th Brigade from Khirgi exclusive to the Ahnai Tangi, and the 43rd Brigade from the Ahnai Tangi to Ladha which was occupied by the 67th Brigade. The latter Brigade had no responsibilities except for its own protection, so that it was available at all times for offensive action. The distribution of troops after the reorganisation was completed was as given in Appendix 1.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

3. During the remainder of May the situation in all parts of the area was quiet, and by degrees the inhabitants of the occupied line began to return to their villages. The blockade was relaxed in favour of those sections of the Mahsuds that had submitted, though it was still enforced against the recalcitrant sections.

This partial raising of the blockade tended towards reconciling the inhabitants to our presence in the heart of the country.

4. On the 25th May Major-General S. H. Climo, C.B., D.S.O., proceeded on leave, and the command of Wazir Force devolved on Brigadier-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O.

5. During the month of June the Abdullais, under their leaders Musha Khan and Fazl Din, continued to be actively hostile against our occupation.

This activity consisted chiefly of sniping and raiding between Piazza and Ladha but met with little success.

The remainder of the area was quiet except for a raid against Isa Khel on the 1st June by a gang of twenty raiders. This gang was surprised near Gambila, on the 2nd June, by troops from Bannu working in co-operation with the police, and dispersed. The area between Dera Ismail Khan, Bannu and Kalabagh now being quiet, all military detachments were withdrawn from Pezu and other posts on the railway. The inhabitants continued to return in considerable numbers and produced local supplies for the troops.

6. During the first few days of July the sniping between Piazza and Ladha increased, and as it was known that the Abdullais of Makin were the principal offenders, a minor operation against Makin was sanctioned and was carried out on the 10th July.

A column under Brigadier-General G. Gwyn-Thomas, C.M.G., D.S.O., composed of—

No. 6 Pack Battery (British).
2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment,
2-41st Dogras,
3-11th Gurkha Rifles, and
1 Company, 34th Pioneers

moved out from Ladha against Makin at 04-30 hours on the 10th July. It met with only slight opposition and by 08-30 hours was in a position to carry out the shelling of the Makin villages. The shelling continued for an hour and a half and considerable damage was done.

The withdrawal to camp began at 10-15 hours and was followed up by the enemy. The two advanced battalions—the 2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment, and 3-11th Gurkha Rifles—carried out their retirement very successfully and only suffered 15 casualties. The numbers of the enemy had, however, by this time considerably increased, and after the two advanced battalions had withdrawn, the Mahsuds showed greater boldness and came to closer range. The 2-41st Dogras, who had taken over the duty of covering the withdrawal, now suffered some casualties which caused delay, and the retirement to camp was only completed at 14-00 hours. Fighting during this period was severe and in some cases hand to hand struggles took place, the 241st Dogras losing in all 18 killed and 41 wounded.

The operation achieved the results aimed at and there was a marked decrease in sniping and in raids in the neighbourhood of Piazhia for a considerable time.

7. During August (which was a comparatively uneventful month), some of the sub-sections of the Mahsuds handed in their share of rifles and fine: the attitude of the friendly tribes improved still further, and the local purchase of supplies increased: and it appeared possible, for the first time, that the Mahsuds would provide labour during the winter for the work on the Ladha road.

8. During September the Wana Wazirs became more active.

On the 11th September a party of the Frontier Constabulary were ambushed near Zam Burg losing five men killed and two captured. One of the parties of Frontier Constabulary sent out to deal with the raiding gang met with a reverse, and lost five men killed and thirteen missing. A squadron of the 16th Cavalry was then sent out from Dera Ismail Khan, but failed to get in touch with the raiders. On the 27th September another Wazir lashkar, estimated at several hundred men, surrounded Drazinda and summoned the garrison to surrender. The Frontier Constabulary at Draband and other posts in the neighbourhood were unable to cope with this lashkar and the 16th Cavalry, less one squadron, were ordered out from Dera Ismail Khan and Tank. Marching all night the cavalry arrived at Draband on the morning of 28th September, and at Drazinda on the 29th.

In the meantime, in order to show the beleaguered garrison that help was at hand, two aeroplanes were ordered from Parachinar to Tank early on the morning of the 28th September. One aeroplane crashed on the Tank aerodrome, but the other arrived over Drazinda at 10-30 hours on the 28th and bombed a party of the enemy, inflicted six casualties. The Wazirs withdrew from the vicinity and the arrival of the cavalry next morning ensured the safety of the post.

9. On 20th October Major-General T. G. Matheson, C.B., C.M.G., took over command of Waziristan Force from Major-General W. L. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O.

10. On the night of 21st-22nd October a mixed gang of about one hundred and twenty Wazirs and Mahsuds broke into Kaur Bridge Camp, which was garrisoned by one company of the 90th Punjabis.

The casualties in the garrison were as follows:—

Owing to the raiders gaining possession of the telephone station no news of the attack reached Tank or Manzai until after the enemy had withdrawn.

On the 24th October the postal convoy was attacked between Jandola and Kotkai and the mails seized.

On the 27th October the camp of Piazhia Raghza was closed down and its garrison was distributed between Sorarogha and Ladha, thus making the stages to Ladha from Jandola three instead of four.

THE OPERATIONS AGAINST THE WANA WAZIRS.

11. It had been intended to operate against the Wana Wazirs during the spring of 1920 to punish the tribe for the many outrages it had been guilty of during 1919.

During the latter year, the Afghans, in order to enlist the assistance of the tribesmen and to embolden them to harry British India, during the Afghan War, had sent a small detachment to Wana. This contingent consisted of two mountain guns and some Afghan soldiers under Shab Daula, who also raised levies of Wazirs and Mahsuds. These levies were supplied with arms and rations by the Afghans. Later, the Afghan contingent was strengthened by the arrival of Haji Abdur Razag, a well-known anti-British agent of considerable reputation, his son Muhammad Hassan, a B. A. of Lahore University, and a small deputation of Hindustani fanatics from the Black Mountain District.

Throughout the summer the contingent remained in Wazir territory and continued to receive assistance from Afghanistan in money, ammunition and rations. The presence of these Afghan adventurers precluded any real attempt on the part of the Wana Wazirs to approach Government with a view to submission.

The determined resistance of the Mahsuds rendered an expedition against the Wana Wazirs in the spring of 1920 impossible and it was postponed, but towards the end of the summer the Government of India decided that operations against the Wana Wazirs should take place in the autumn unless our terms were complied with, and ordered the concentration of the Wana Column at Jandola. Troops belonging to the Wazir Force were to be assembled by the end of October, and those from other districts in India by the 15th November.

The column consisted of two Infantry Brigades with attached troops under the command of Major-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O. The detailed composition of the column is shown in Appendix 2.

The Mahsud situation, generally, improved so much that there was little doubt that these tribesmen would not only refuse to assist the Wana Wazirs, but would put no obstacle in our way during the advance to Sarwekai, which was to be the first stage in the advance to Wana. The concentration of the troops from other districts in India was therefore postponed so as to keep the number of troops to be maintained as low as possible, and thereby expedite the collection at Jandola of the necessary supplies and stores.

12. The Wana Wazir maliks were summoned to present themselves at Murtaza on October 10th to receive the terms of the Government of India. The full terms for the Wana Wazirs were a fine of Rs. 40,000, 250 tribal rifles and all Government rifles taken by them since 1st May 1920. These terms were issued to the jirga by the Resident in Waziristan and included a clause to the effect that Rs. 20,000 of the fine, 300 Government rifles and 200 tribal rifles were to be surrendered by a fully representative jirga at Murtaza by the 10th November, failing which our troops would advance on Wana and carry out punitive operations and enforce the full terms.

This clause was not complied with, and the Wazir jirga failed to attend at Murtaza on the 10th November. In consequence, on the 11th November, the bombing of certain selected objectives by aeroplane was commenced. At that time the Wana Wazirs were divided in their intentions, a considerable party wishing for peace and endeavouring to comply with the terms of Government, while a larger party was against compliance. The ruling spirit of this party was the Haji, and it became apparent that no settlement was probable until the Haji and his followers had been forced to leave the country or had been so discredited as to lose their ascendancy. Bombing activity was therefore concentrated on the localities occupied by the Haji.

13. On the 12th November the Wana Column moved forward to Chagmali, which is close to the entrance of the Shahur Tangi. A few sniping shots were fired at the advanced troops, but no casualties were sustained.

Between the 12th and 14th November permanent piquets were erected guarding the Shahur Tangi, and during the operation not a single shot was fired at the troops. The country in the Shahur Tangi is particularly difficult, and it is an eloquent testimony to the success of our dealings with the majority of the tribe that the Mahsuds not only refrained from taking advantage of such favourable country, but were at pains to assist us.

14. On the 15th November the column advanced to Haidari Kach, the only opposition being desultory sniping by a small number of Wazirs, and Sarwekai was reached without opposition on the 18th.

As soon as our advance through the Shahur Tangi to Haidari Kach had been completed, the friendly Mahsuds committed themselves more definitely to our assistance. The Haji had sought to obtain assistance from them for the Wana Wazirs, proceeding himself to Sarwekai in the hope of securing their help. He not only failed in this, but the friendly Mahsuds sent a warning to the Wazirs that they would not allow them into Mahsud country to oppose us. A lashkar of 500 friendly Mahsuds moved to Sarwekai and informed the Haji that if he did not go voluntarily he would be turned out by force. The Haji withdrew with all his followers, and the friendly Mahsud lashkar occupied the old fort of Sarwekai and held it for us until our troops arrived.

15. At Sarwekai the Wana Wazirs were given an opportunity of reconsidering their attitude before the column made a further advance. The friendly sections made overtures for peace, and began bringing in instalments of their fine, but the hostile sections refused to come in, being bribed by the Haji with gifts of ammunition and money. By the 15th December the total surrenders had amounted to—

Rupees 24,406 fine.

51 Government rifles, and

67 tribal rifles

As the number of rifles fell far short of our demands, the advance to Wana was ordered to begin on 16th December.

16. On the 11th December the forward concentration at Sarwekai of the force which was to advance to Wana commenced, and between the 12th and 15th December forward permanent piquets were established without opposition to distance of some five and a half miles beyond Sarwekai.

17. Leaving the 23rd Brigade Headquarters and two battalions at Sarwekai, the remainder of the column began the advance to Wana on the 16th December. No opposition was encountered until the long and steep descent of the Shina Pal Lar was commenced. Here some hostile parties, estimated at 150, were established in the broken country leading down to Dargai Oba, but were dispersed without difficulty.

18. On the 17th December all available troops were employed on improving the northern road back towards Sarwekai and in constructing permanent piquets for its protection. The use of the Shina Pal Lar was discontinued.*

During the 18th, parties of the enemy were seen making sangars in the area Nagundi-Granai Maranarai. From the Tarkhike Algad there is a choice of two roads to Wana, one by Granai Maranarai and the other by Kut Narai. The permanent piquets were only established as far as the Tarkhike Algad in order to leave the enemy uncertain by which road the advance was to take place.

19. The advance to Wana was continued on the 19th December. A strong advanced guard was formed under Lieutenant-Colonel B. U. Nicolay, of the 4-3rd Gurkha Rifles, consisting of the following troops:—

1 Pack Battery,

1 Section* Machine Gun Company,

4-3rd Gurkha Rifles and South Waziristan Militia.

The advanced guard left camp before dawn so as to be in a position to begin its advance across the plain to the east of the Tarkhike Algad at 07-15 hours. It was to seize, as rapidly as possible, the high ground on both sides of the Granai Maranarai. Taking the fullest advantage of the half light, and then of the rising sun behind them, the troops advanced rapidly, forestalling any opposition, and were in possession of Point 3963 and of the low features west of Kam Tarkhike by 08-00 hours. The enemy were taken completely by surprise and had no time to occupy the sangars previously prepared.

There was little further opposition, and by 10-25 hours the advanced guard was in possession of the ridges commanding the junction of the Granai Maranarai and the Sanzala Algad roads. The 2nd Battalion, the Norfolk Regiment, now replaced the 4-3rd Gurkha Rifles in the advanced guard and Lieutenant-Colonel W. F. L. Gordon, C.M.G., D.S.O., took over command from Lieutenant-Colonel B. U. Nicolay. The advance to Karab Kot met with no further opposition, and the camping ground was reached at 13-30 hours.

The strength of the enemy on this day was about 700 men and our intelligence reports pointed to his intention to make a stand. Our casualties

* NOTE.—The road used henceforward ran from Dargai Oba north east to Point 4296, then south east to join the southern road; thence by the Woragha Tangi to Sarwekai camp.

In one case a number of Powindah camels were seized five miles from Bannu, but the 21st Cavalry, getting news of the capture, were too quick for the raiders, and moving out from Bannu between the hills and the main road succeeded in recovering all the camels and captured two of the raiders.

27. On the 4th January, two companies of 48th Pioneers, together with a company of the 28th Punjabis, acting as covering troops, were surprised near Jandola, when engaged in making a road, and suffered severe casualties, fire being opened on them at short range. The enemy, numbering 120, belonged to recalcitrant sections of the Mahsuds.

The troops behaved gallantly under trying circumstances, and all the wounded were brought back to camp with the assistance of an armoured car of No. 5 Armoured Motor Battery and reinforcements of the 82nd Punjabis sent out from Jandola. Our casualties amounted to two British officers and one Indian officer wounded, ten Indian other ranks killed and thirty-nine Indian other ranks wounded.

28. On 14th January road protection troops from Sorarogha were attacked by a large gang, but were reinforced by the movable column from Sorarogha when the withdrawal to camp was successfully carried out. Our casualties were one British officer wounded, three Indian other ranks killed and ten wounded.

Two days later, the road protection troops were again attacked in the same vicinity by about 50 Abdullai Mahsuds. Our infantry and the neighbouring piquets engaged the enemy and the 27th Pack Battery opened sudden and accurate fire on them. It was later ascertained that the Mahsuds lost nine killed and twelve wounded on this occasion.

In January altogether seventeen attacks occurred on the Ladha line, and one in the Tochi.

29. During February sniping of piquets and convoys continued. Eighteen such cases occurring on the Ladha line; none of them were serious, but they resulted in the loss to our troops of eight killed and eight wounded.

30. During March it became obvious that the tribes were anxiously watching to see what the result of the Kabul negotiations would be. The Afghan demand that we should withdraw our troops from Waziristan and Afghan propaganda had a direct effect on the hostile sections both of the Mahsuds and Wazirs.

On the Wana line sniping of convoys began to increase, instigated by the Haji from across the border, and on the Ladha line hostile Mahsud activity continued.

31. On 22nd March a gang of about 100 Abdullai Mahsuds attacked the camel convoy between Manzai and Khirgi. The local road protection troops were outnumbered and were unable to prevent the gang driving off fifty camels.

On the 24th March the road protection troops from Ladha, consisting of three companies of the 4-39th Garhwal Rifles, were heavily attacked near Piazhia Raghza.

News of the attack reached Ladha and a reinforcement of the remaining company of the 4-39th Garhwal Rifles with stretchers was sent back and the withdrawal which had been delayed was continued, and the wounded were eventually brought in. The casualties of the 4-39th Garhwal Rifles were heavy and consisted of 16 Garhwali other ranks killed, one British officer, three Garhwali officers and twenty Garhwali other ranks wounded.

32. As a reprisal for this attack, Makin was subjected to bombing from the air on the 28th, 29th and 30th, the bombing machines going out at varying times morning and evening. Four 112-lb. bombs and over a hundred 20-lb. bombs were dropped and 950 rounds of small arms ammunition fired on different targets with good results.

CASUALTIES.

CONCLUSION.

34. The occupation of such a country as Waziristan is a severe strain on the troops who have to face arduous and dangerous duties daily. The scorching heat of summer followed by a bitter winter demands a very high standard of endurance from all troops employed in protective duties, whether in permanent piquets or on road protection.

35. Whilst the heaviest work has fallen on the infantry, the co-operation of the 11th Pack Artillery Brigade with them has throughout been of a high order. No. 6 Pack Battery (British) and No. 35 Pack Battery on the Wana Column had also opportunities of working with "A" Company, No. 11 Machine Gun Battalion, which joined the column in December 1920, and these units did much useful combined work.

No. 27 Pack Battery and a section of the 128th Howitzer Battery have rendered valuable assistance to piquetting troops on the Ladha line of communications, covering several difficult withdrawals.

36. There have not been many opportunities for cavalry action, but both the 16th and 21st Cavalry have made the most of the chances given them.

37. A detachment of South Waziristan Militia was employed on the Wana Column. Their local knowledge of the frontier and training were very useful during that time.

38. The 2nd Squadron, Royal Air Force, has been closely connected with the operations described above. This squadron was located at Tank from November 1920 to April 1921 and rendered the force great service both in reconnaissance and bombing expeditions.

39. The engineer services during the period under review have been very fully engaged in works of various kinds, and have carried out their duties to my entire satisfaction. Some two hundred miles of road have been maintained for continuous traffic of heavy and light mechanical transport.

One of the main objects of our present occupation of Waziristan is to enable good roads to be driven through the country whereon blockhouses will be built so as to enable us to control and police the country. The construction of the mechanical transport road of the Takki Zam is the first step in the programme. Throughout the cold weather work has proceeded satisfactorily in spite of great difficulties.

Besides the work on roads the Royal Engineer services have provided installations for electric power, water-supply and ice factories throughout the force. Piped water supplies have been provided at Darya Khan, Kaur Bridge, the fort area Dera Ismail Khan, Bannu and Ladha.

On the Wana Column operations the 14th Field Company, R. E., and the 2-61st Pioneers were continually employed during the forward advance in the construction of piquets and blockhouses.

40. The daily work of the signal personnel throughout the various long lines of communication has been continuously difficult and dangerous.

In spite of the constant cutting of wires and wilful damage to air lines, Force Headquarters has never been out of touch with its furthest posts, except for very brief intervals. This is a very high standard to have attained and has meant great devotion to duty throughout the Army Signal Service.

The work of the Army Signals was ably seconded by the Line of Communication Signal Company which, composed of civilian personnel, provided the whole of the semi-permanent telegraph and telephone lines.

The shortage of operators has restricted the use of wireless to some extent, but on occasions when communications otherwise have been interrupted the wireless stations in the area have successfully taken the place of the land lines.

41. The administration of a force such as this with several different lines of communications makes heavy demands on staff and administrative services. The force has been self-supporting as regards fuel, meat and also partially as regards fodder. All other supplies for approximately 65,000 troops and 25,000 animals have to be conveyed from the broad gauge railheads east of the Indus river across that river on steamers and flats to the forward areas. West of the Indus the means of transport are many and varied.

The necessities of a modern army at war are many, but when in addition to this every requirement for a prolonged occupation of a country such as Waziristan has to be sent up the line, the capabilities and resources of the administrative services are heavily taxed.

Only by continuous and sustained effort on the part of all Supply and Transport services were the requirements of the troops met. The Supply and Transport also took over the administration of Field Force canteens and was responsible for running all military dairies in the area. The supply of fresh vegetables and ice to troops up the line was also arranged for by this corps.

42. Waziristan has an unenviable reputation for climate. The extremes of heat and cold combined with the virulent malaria indigenous to the country are conducive to a high sick-rate.

That the sick-rate has not been higher is directly attributable to the care and forethought of the medical authorities. The medical units throughout the force are mobilized ones, yet they have been expanded and developed so that the sick and wounded receive treatment much in advance of that ordinarily procurable in field units.

43. The Ordnance Service has very efficiently fulfilled the heavy demands made upon it. The establishment of a large dépôt at Mari Indus was determined on last summer, based on the requirements of a force of 60,000 for four months. This entailed elaborate arrangements for shedding, stacking and shelving material for several hundred tons of stores.

44. With 24,000 transport and other animals in the force, for the most part continuously employed on convoy duty, efficient veterinary treatment is essential.

Veterinary hospitals with adequate provision for sick animals have been established, and it is due to the excellence of their arrangements that rinderpest, which threatened to become an epidemic, was prevented, and the staging camels were maintained in health.

45. The tact determination and skill with which Major-General T. G. Matheson, C.B., C.M.G., has conducted the operations since October 20th, 1920, deserves special mention. Though previously unacquainted with the frontier, he has carried out his difficult task with marked success and to my entire satisfaction, in the face of adverse conditions and constant anxiety. He is a skilful and resolute commander.

46. I desire here to record my thanks to J. A. O. Fitzpatrick, Esq., O.B.E., C.I.E., Resident in Waziristan, for the able assistance and advice he has given. Major-General T. G. Matheson, C.B., C.M.G., and his predecessor Major-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O., have both expressed their appreciation of the political assistance afforded them.

47. Major-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O., commanded Wazir Force from the 25th May 1920 to 19th October 1920, after which he held command of the Wana Column until 20th March 1921. He is a skilful and resolute commander, whose knowledge of frontier warfare under modern conditions is invaluable. It was largely due to his skill that Wana was reached with so few casualties.

48. A list of the names of those whose services have been of particular value will follow.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORTS OF COMMISSIONERS OF DIVISIONS ON THE WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES DURING 1920-21.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 1ST MAY 1922.

RESOLUTION—No. 2016M.

READ—

The reports of Commissioners of Divisions on the working of municipalities during 1920-21.

1. Number of municipalities.—A new municipality was created at Bhola (Bakarganj); the total number of municipalities in Bengal thus became 116. As, however, the new municipality did not begin work during the year the statements appended deal with statistics for 115 municipalities.

2. Elections.—The elective system was in force in all except five municipalities. At present under section 14 of the Bengal Municipal Act, Government appoint one-third of the Commissioners of a municipality which has the elective system. In 1919 Government decided that an experiment should be made in certain municipalities, whereby the elected Commissioners, subject to Government control, should be invited to co-opt the remaining one-third of their body. This privilege was granted to the elected Commissioners of Nabadwip, Comilla, Chandpur and Jessore; it was found necessary to revert to the old system in Nabadwip. All except 12 municipalities have the right to elect their own Chairmen. The latter number has been reduced to five since the close of the year.

General elections were held in 16 municipalities. Little interest was shown in the municipal elections of Chandpur and Cox's Bazar, while there was no poll in any ward in Sherpur nor in one ward of Nawabganj.

Litigation in connection with the general election of the Kotrung Municipality held in 1918-19 was continued, and an appeal was preferred before the Subordinate Judge of Hooghly against the decision which the Civil Court had given in favour of the municipality. The Subordinate Judge set aside the election and passed a perpetual injunction on 17th May 1921 restraining the new Municipal Board from transacting any business. The Chairman preferred an appeal to the High Court, which has since set aside the order of the Subordinate Judge. The elections in two wards of the Maniktala Municipality and in one ward of the Basirhat Municipality were set aside by the Civil Court, appeals against which are pending in the High Court.

3. Meetings.—One hundred and sixty-one meetings or, on the average, one in every 14 failed for want of a quorum. The failure was most marked in Baduria where 6 out of 14 meetings proved abortive. The Commissioners of the North Barrackpore, Gobordanga and Murshidabad municipalities failed to hold monthly meetings. Eight out of 18 Commissioners of the Barasat Municipality absented themselves from several consecutive meetings, while the attendance of the official Commissioners in this and eight other municipalities in the Presidency Division^s reported to have been irregular.

4. Ratepayers and voters.—The number of ratepayers rose from 319,906 to 322,466 and the population residing within municipal limits (2,631,500) showed an increase of 57,700 according to the last census. The ratio of ratepayers to the population averaged nearly 16 per cent. in the Presidency as a whole, and varied from 37·5 per cent. in Kumarkhali to 3·3 per cent. in Titagarh, a mill town with a large cooly population. - Other towns in which rates are paid by less than one-tenth of the people are the mill municipalities of Garden Reach, Bhatpara, Garulia, Champdani and Bhadreswar as well as Darjeeling and Narayanganj.

5. Assessment and taxation.—The average incidence of taxation per head of population was Rs. 2-11-9 showing a slight falling off, which is due to an increase in population according to the last census. The incidence is highest in the suburban municipality of Cossipore-Chitpur (Rs. 9-7-2). Next come the hill stations of Darjeeling (Rs. 8-8-4) and Kurseong (Rs. 7-0-11). In only two other towns (Howrah and Chittagong) it is above Rs. 5 while it is below Re. 1 in 31 municipalities or nearly one-fourth of the total number, falling in two cases to below 8 annas a head.

A general or partial revision of assessment was made in about half the number of municipalities; the net result being an increase of Rs. 3,17,209 in the municipal demand of the Presidency as a whole. In Cossipore-Chitpur the net increase of revenue amounted to Rs. 22,601, of which more than half was due to the assessment of new jute godowns. Maniktala, Burdwan and Barisal secured each an increase of more than Rs. 10,000 while in Bally an enhancement of the rate of taxation in three out of four wards brought in an additional income of Rs. 17,451. The revision of assessment in Kurseong in subject to the result of no less than 200 appeals, but the Chairman expects an increase of Rs. 6,000 in municipal revenue. A water-rate and tax on arable land were imposed for the first time in Nator and Sherpur, respectively. In the former town the tax on persons which had been in force in 5 out of 12 wards was replaced by a rate on holdings.

6. Collections.—There was a satisfactory increase of Rs. 2½ lakhs in collections, the percentage on the current demand rising from 90 to nearly 96. In 13 municipalities the collections were equal to or in excess of the current demand and in 17 they were over 99 per cent. On the other hand, the ratio was under 85 per cent. in nine municipalities, falling as low as 66 per cent. in Bally. Garulia and Nalchiti alone collected the full demand without any remission. The amount of remissions was smaller than in previous year and represented 2·5 per cent. on the current demand. The small municipality of Debhatta remitted more than quarter of its current demand while five others, viz. Kharar, Bansberia, Bally, Halisahar and Taki, remitted more than 10 per cent. Except in the case of Bansberia where remissions were granted on account of vacant holdings and exemptions allowed on account of altered circumstances of ratepayers, no explanation has been given for the high percentage of remission.

The returns show that there is a growing tendency to allow municipal revenue falling in arrears. In the Presidency as a whole, the balances outstanding at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 7,06,896 against 6 lakhs in the previous year and Rs. 5,40,076 in the year 1918-19. The Minister for Local Self-Government regrets to observe that the accumulation of such heavy arrears reflects credit neither upon the Municipal Commissioners nor upon their executive. Howrah shows the largest balance outstanding (viz., Rs. 2,11,780) and although an explanation has been given, the real reason for this heavy accumulation seems to be the weakness of the municipal executive in enforcing punctual payment by resorting, where necessary, to coercive measures which were adopted only in five cases. Other municipalities which had unduly large outstandings were Cossipore-Chitpur, Mymensingh, Bally, Dacca, Hooghly-Chinsura, Burdwan and Chittagong. In the case of the first named municipality the balance of Rs. 65,000 was mainly due to the non-payment of taxes due from the Eastern Bengal Railway, but in other cases no satisfactory explanation has been furnished. By a mistaken leniency towards defaulters, the Commissioners frequently impose a heavy handicap on their administration; the Minister trusts that prompt and vigorous measures will be taken to collect arrears. On the other hand, four municipalities had no outstanding balances while in ten other cases they were less than Rs. 100.

7. Income and expenditure.—The total receipts including opening balance fell from Rs. 98,29,204 to Rs. 97,43,540; the decrease under the heads "Opening balance" and "Grants and contributions" counterbalancing the increase in receipts from taxation. Expenditure also fell from Rs. 81,33,115 to Rs. 74,26,217, mostly under the head "Public health and convenience."

8. Closing balances.—The closing balances rose from Rs. 17 lakhs to Rs. 23 lakhs; a large portion of this represents unspent grants and loans received from Government for improvement schemes, such as water-supply, drainage and sewerage, and includes the credit balances of special funds (e.g., water, lighting, hackney-carriage and dispensary). About one-third of the total number of municipalities closed the year with a balance exceeding one quarter of the total expenditure. On the other hand, a number of municipalities failed to keep adequate working balances and in 13 cases they were insufficient to meet outstanding liabilities. Debhatta with an ordinary expenditure of Rs. 3,000 had a balance of Rs. 51 only while Satkhira with an expenditure of more than Rs. 9,000 closed the year with the exiguous sum of Rs. 43 in hand and with a liability of Rs. 492. In the case of Mymensingh, Muktagacha, Tollygunge, Barasat and Baduria the outstanding liabilities exceeded largely the closing balances. The worst offender was Muktagacha which had outstanding liabilities of Rs. 4563, or nearly half of its current demand against, an actual balance of Rs. 574.

9. Education.—The amount spent on education, including the Government grant of Rs. 1,06,056, was Rs. 2,83,955 or about 3½ per cent. of the municipal income as against 4·2 per cent. in the preceding year. The expenditure on primary education fell from Rs. 1,34,221 to Rs. 1,28,713, but it is satisfactory to note that only 13 municipalities, as against 22 in the previous year, failed to spend at least 3·2 per cent. of their ordinary income—the percentage which is taken to represent the amount required for the education of half the number of boys of primary school-going age. On the other hand, the percentage was over 5 per cent. in 53 municipalities and over 10 per cent. in 5.

The Rangpur Municipality resolved to levy an education cess under the Bengal Primary Education Act of 1519, and the Municipal Commissioners of Darjeeling decided to establish two primary schools, viz., one for boys and the other for girls, each to accommodate 300 students, and received a Government grant for the construction of the boys' school during the year. A model building, which will be a credit to the town, is now under construction. The Chandpur Municipality approved of the scheme drawn up by Mr. E. E. Biss regarding voluntary primary education.

10. Water-supply.—The waterworks at Mymensingh and Noakhali were completed during the year. Additions were made to those at Dacca and Burdwan. Considerable progress was made with the Midnapore waterworks. A scheme for the improvement of the Darjeeling waterworks was sanctioned by Government and is in progress. Schemes for the extension of the water-supply at Serampore and for the installation of a piped supply in one ward of Naihati were sanctioned. A modest scheme was also sanctioned for Patuakhali; a Government grant of Rs. 10,000 was made to meet the cost of sinking an experimental bore hole in connection with the scheme. A loan of Rs. 1,00,000 was granted by Government to the Krishnagar Municipality for the execution of its waterworks scheme. Projects for water-supply at Rishra-Konnagar, Faridpur, Ranaghat, Nabadwip and Bogra were prepared, but were not taken in hand on account of financial difficulties. Water-supply projects for certain other municipalities are under preparation.

The resources of many of the municipalities in Bengal are too limited to permit of their undertaking costly water-supply schemes. It is, however, believed that satisfactory schemes of a cheaper type, based on artesian borings or tube-wells, can be devised for the smaller towns, and Government propose to purchase a boring plant for this purpose. In some municipalities the water-supply is obtained from tanks; where this is the case, it is clear that the Commissioners should be most vigilant and active in their measures to reserve the tanks.

11. Drainage.—The drainage scheme for Budge-Budge was in progress. Administrative approval was given to the drainage project for Krishnagar and a portion of Rangpur. A detailed scheme for improving the drainage of Basirhat was under the consideration of the Sanitary Board. The Municipal Commissioners of Hooghly-Chinsura, Serampore and Suri could not take up their drainage schemes for want of funds. Minor works were carried out in Bally, Bankura, Khulna, Chittagong, Comilla, Darjeeling and Dinajpur.

12. Conservancy.—The conservancy charges were about Rs. 5½ lakhs in excess of the receipts from latrine fees which were levied in all but 16 municipalities. Certain municipalities in the Presidency Division derived income from the sale of nightsoil and the levy of rents for the surplus land of trenching-grounds.

The sewerage scheme for Kurseong was completed and that for Dacca was in progress. Sewerage schemes for which the local mills contributed liberally were prepared for Naihati and a portion of Kamarhati. It is hoped that Government sanction may shortly be accorded to the important Titagarh scheme. A scheme for Bhatpara, which is also of the first importance, is under preparation.

13. Public health.—It is a good sign that for the past few years almost all municipalities have been taking measures to improve sanitation by filling up or clearing insanitary tanks and ditches and by removing jungle.

Effective steps were taken to prevent the spread of cholera and small-pox which broke out in several municipalities in the Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions. Faridpur offered a reward for information of the first case of these diseases so that the Sanitary Inspector might immediately visit the locality, trace out the source of infection and adopt necessary measures for disinfection.

Influenza was responsible for no less than 262 deaths in Darjeeling. Vigorous steps were taken to cope with the epidemic, and the special medical staff had considerable success in their efforts to induce infected persons to proceed to the hospital, so as to secure a certain amount of segregation and more efficient treatment. Influenza tabloids were distributed gratis by Dinajpur, Azimganj and Jessore. Many municipalities distributed quinine among the poor people.

Vaccination depôts were opened in different parts of Naihati and several suburban municipalities. Additional vaccination staff, male and female, was employed in Dacca and Narayanganj. House-to-house vaccination, free of charge, was carried out in Dacca to popularise vaccination.

In the Burdwan Division all municipalities with one exception employed the requisite number of Sanitary officers. Rajpur and Kamarhati failed to appoint Sanitary Inspectors while the post of Health Officer remained vacant in Krishnagar, Chittagong and Barisal owing to the lack of qualified officers.

By-laws were framed by a number of municipalities for the eradication of water-hyacinth, and notices under section 200 of the Bengal Municipal Act were issued by some to remove this pest from tanks and waterways.

14. Public works.—The percentage of the outlay on public works to the total expenditure varied in the smaller towns from 2·1 in Birnagar to 56·9 in Taki and in larger municipalities from 5·4 in Kurseong to 30·4 in the South Suburban Municipality. The new town hall and municipal office in Darjeeling was completed.

15. Loans.—Loans amounting to Rs. 3½ lakhs were granted to five municipalities. Altogether 43 municipalities were in debt to Government; their total liabilities at the end of the year amounted to more than Rs. 40 lakhs.

16. Audits and embezzlements.—The accounts of almost all municipalities except Berhampore and Chittagong were audited during the year. No case of embezzlement was brought to light except a few cases of temporary misappropriation. The collection accounts of the Burdwan Municipality were in a chaotic state, and a Sub-Deputy Collector was deputed to remedy the defects disclosed.

17. General Remarks.—Burdwan Division.—Howrah.—The total ordinary income of the municipality fell from Rs. 13,58,278 to Rs. 13,54,719 while the total expenditure declined from Rs. 12,94,332 to Rs. 11,85,664. The decrease in expenditure occurred mainly under the head "Public health and convenience" owing to the restriction of repairs to roads imposed by the dearth of metal. The current demand on account of municipal taxes rose from Rs. 12,16,985 to Rs. 13,25,459. The latrine fund had been working at a deficit since 1917-18, and the Municipal Commissioners resolved to revise the scale of latrine fees with effect from the 1st April 1921. The scheme for the improvement of waterworks could not be taken up for want of funds, and the Municipal Commissioners have resolved to approach Government for a loan for the purpose. Analyses of the filtered water show the supply to be on the whole good and pure. Conservancy was as before carried on for the most part under the supervision of ten ward committees. Difficulties were experienced in the recruitment of sweepers and other menial staff. The sweepers and sweepers went on strike and their wages had to be increased, entailing an additional burden of about Rs. 50,000 on the latrine fund. Owing to want of funds the proposal for the removal of Nandibagan trenching-ground has not taken any practical shape. A sum of Rs. 45,764 was spent on the maintenance of stone and brick roads against Rs. 81,636 in the previous year. Out of 68·69 miles of metalled roads, 5·13 miles were metalled during the year against 20·33 miles in the previous year; the programme of road repairs was held up owing to the difficulty of obtaining metal. Health conditions in the municipal area, though a little better than in the preceding year, cannot be considered satisfactory. The birth-rate was 20·20 per mille against 21·78 while the death-rate was 43·08 per mille against 57·86 of the preceding year.

• 18. The administration of the Burdwan Municipality continued to be vested in a body of nominated Municipal Commissioners, who, however, are said to have shown as much vigour and zeal as though they were responsible to a vigilant and informed electorate. Conditions are not favourable to efficient administration. The town is hemmed in between the Damodar embankment and the embankment of the East Indian Railway, dotted over with innumerable tanks in various stages of preservation, and is therefore naturally a hot-bed of malaria. Practically no systematic attempt has been made in the past to tackle this disease, the Commissioners having concentrated their efforts on securing a good supply of filtered water and thus obtaining immunity from water-borne diseases. Nevertheless much has been accomplished, and the foundations of further progress have been laid. In particular, the Commissioners have brought about a substantial reduction of a large volume of arrear demands.

The towns of Asansol and Raniganj suffer in some respects from their situation in the coalfields and the proximity of large industrial works. The year under report witnessed much labour unrest, with the result that the menial staff of these municipalities showed a hankering for less work and more pay. The consequence was an increased burden on the municipal finance while the conservancy service was very indifferent. There was an unfortunate cleavage between the railway representatives on the Asansol municipal board and the Indian municipal commissioners, the latter opposing the compromise whereby on the extension of the elective system the railway settlement is to be made a self-governing ward with an income of its own while the railway officials passed several resolutions in favour of lavish expenditure which, had they been brought into effect, would have made the municipality bankrupt.

In Chandrakona, faction spoils to a large extent any possibility of good work; the Chairman and Vice-Chairman have been frequent absentees from the meetings. As regards the Midnapore Municipality Mr. Cook observes:—

"The executive has exercised their power on more than one occasion in a manner detrimental to the interest of the ratepayers. In one case, it was proposed to lease out to a private individual a public roadway leading to an old established bazar, thereby cutting off access to this bazar of a large part of the townfolk living to the west of the roadway."

19. Presidency Division.—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas criticizes the municipal administration of several towns in his district, such as Tollygunge, Panihati, Jainagar, South Dum Dum, Barasat, Baduria, Gobordanga, Halisahar, etc.; but, on the other hand, the Cossipore-Chitpur, Baranagar, Garden Reach, Titagarh, Bhatpara, Naihati and Baruipur municipalities are said to do good work and to be steadily improving local conditions. Steady progress is being made with schemes for water-supply and sewerage in Naihati, for sewerage in Titagarh and for flood-flush drainage in Budge Budge.

Mr. Prentice points out that the provision of an improved water supply for Cossipore-Chitpur is of great importance not only from the sanitary point of view but also from the point of view of public safety. A scheme for an unfiltered water-supply for purposes of fire-control has been suggested; but, as he points out, the Commissioners are naturally reluctant to commit themselves to the dual system while there is any chance of obtaining a sufficient supply of filtered water for all purposes, e.g., under a satisfactory riparian water-supply scheme. "The position in Budge Budge is more difficult, as it is a long way south of Calcutta, and the supply of water from a central scheme might be expensive. However, the Commissioners have decided to ask the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, Bengal, to frame a scheme for their consideration, and his proposals are awaited. Unfortunately the deep tube-wells that have been so successful in mills at Titagarh and elsewhere have not proved such a success in Garden Reach and Budge Budge; otherwise there might have been a fairly simple solution of the difficulty.

"The most important problems of municipal drainage in the district of the 24-Parganas are bound up with the fortunes of the Grand Trunk Canal scheme which for years past has held up schemes for the improvement of the drainage of Maniktala, Cossipur-Chitpore and part of South Dum Dum as well as of those of the riparian municipalities whose drainage it was proposed to lead into the Bagjolla khal.

"There has been considerable improvement in the market of Panihati and in one or two markets in Baranagar. But there are still complaints about the failure of the owners of the Garulia market to comply with the requisitions of the Municipal Commissioners. The condition of the market in Joynagar and Gobordanga is a good example of how the public welfare is subordinated to private interests."

"More vigorous action is desirable in the improvement of insanitary bustis. Practically no schemes under section 245 of the Act are under preparation in any of the municipalities in this district, and yet some of the bustis to be seen in some of the best municipalities are insanitary in the extreme.

"There is great need for the more effective personal supervision of the municipal staff, indoor and outdoor, by the local executives of many of the municipalities in this district."

The Khulna Municipality in general is doing its best for the health of the town, but is handicapped by want of funds.

Among other minor municipalities in the Presidency Division the most striking features of the year were the prevalence of strong party faction in Azimganj, so that opposition was not always honest, the practical bankruptcy of Sathkhira after the inauguration of the water-supply, the reluctance in Jessore to issue warrants of distress, and the temporary failure of the Berhampore water-supply owing to shortage of coal.

The Commissioner of the Division observes :—

“Bad administration is too often at fault owing to the failure of the executive to make full use of their powers of coercion under the Act so as to remove common defects without cost to municipal funds. Though the main difficulty is want of money, the result for the money spent is in default of proper supervision not always the best. Without the growth of a strong public opinion supporting sanitary measures and vigorous control there can be no marked improvement under present conditions.

Nor do I see signs of any new spirit looking for a leader to carry broader views into effect. Even if a committee does not dare to face the capital outlay I find no bias in favour of private enterprise in matters of public concern. And yet in the matter of lighting or water-supply, private companies might be expected to come forward if they be given proper encouragement.”

20. Dacca Division.—The Commissioner observes that it is difficult to find in most of the municipalities persons able and willing and with sufficient leisure to perform the work of Chairman and Vice-Chairman. The average work turned out is, however, in his opinion, fair. Mr. Lindsay, the Magistrate of Dacca, writes as follows as to the working of the municipalities in his district :—

“The municipalities have shared in the difficulties universally caused by high prices, but they have carried on their services without loss of efficiency. In both cases, however, they handicap themselves by bad collection of rates in spite of the ample powers given them by law. Commissioners themselves are often among the defaulters and are only too ready to intercede for defaulters among their constituents. Against these the municipal staff does not dare to take drastic action with the result that almost three-fourths of the collections are realised in the last quarter, and even when collections have been good, as in this year, 7 per cent. of the current demand is in arrear compared with $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. in England. Municipal work could be carried much more easily if only collections were made promptly and fearlessly. This can only be done by making the Commissioners personally responsible for these collections as is the case with most local authorities in England.”

21. Chittagong Division.—The administration of Chittagong has not much improved. The roads generally are badly kept up, but considering the high cost of brick material and the expense of running the waterworks nothing else could be expected. Besides there are said to be so many parties among the Municipal Commissioners that it is a difficult task to carry any measure through at a meeting. Considerable improvement was effected in the financial position of the Comilla Municipality. The Commissioners of Chandpur deserve credit for adopting the scheme of voluntary primary education, but they have lately shown a deplorable tendency to interest themselves in party politics to the detriment of their administrative efficiency.

22. Rajshahi Division.—The Magistrate of Rajshahi observes :—

“Rampur-Boalia Municipality has been the subject of unfavourable comment annually for some time, and I see no indications of improvement. Their finances are in a deplorable state, and I can only attribute this to an entire lack of any desire for improvement. I am convinced that a little energy and personal attention would set the municipality on its legs, but these appear to be far to seek. The auditor's reports for some time past have drawn attention to persistent irregularities which the Commissioners apparently do not trouble to correct. Conditions at Nator are better.”

There is said to be a lack of any real civic spirit in the three municipalities in Malda.

The collections were very unsatisfactory both in the Pabna and the Serajganj municipalities. There is also no proper increase in taxation. Neither of the municipalities has taken steps to introduce the holding rate. Until this is done there is little hope of improving the municipal finances. Roads are said to be neglected and proper steps are not taken to improve the drains.

The Deputy Commissioner of Darjeeling writes as follows :—

“The municipality of Kurseong is much indebted to Mr. Addis, the Chairman, for the ungrudging way in which he has spent his time and energies in carrying on its business. It is uphill work. Kurseong has a piped water-supply, and its sewerage scheme is nearing completion. Its lighting is poor, its market (a private property) is in a congested locality, its arrangements for the slaughter of cattle and for the sale of meat are most defective, its surface drainage owing to deficient flushing is bad and the majority of its houses have grave sanitary defects. The income of the municipality is insufficient to finance an adequate loans programme, and there seems little prospect of the rateable value of the town increasing unless the town can be popularised by the development of vacant lands (private property) for building sites. Mr. Addis has proposed, with the small margin of income over expenditure which the revised assessment is yielding, to raise a loan for the construction of a modern meat market and slaughter-house while the possibility of embarking on an electric lighting scheme is under consideration.”

The Commissioners of Darjeeling are reported to have shown considerable interest in the discharge of their duties and to have assisted in the smooth working of the municipality. Commissioners as a body are said to be the progressive and anxious to improve the amenities of their town, which is fortunate in the public spirit and mutual co-operation of its municipal representatives. The Commissioner of the Division observes that no less than three of the municipalities in the division had absentee Chairmen during the year under report ; it seems to be a serious mistake to elect as Chairman a person who is likely to spend most of the year outside the limits of his municipality.

23. The names of the following Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen have been specially brought to the notice of Government by the Commissioners of Divisions on account of the good work done by them, and the Government in the Ministry of Local Self-Government desire to express their appreciation of the public spirit shown by them :—

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORTS OF COMMISSIONERS OF DIVISIONS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1920-21.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LOCAL SELF-GOVT. DEPARTMENT.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 1ST MAY 1922.

RESOLUTION No. 2015 L.S.-G.

READ—

The reports of Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1920-21.

District Boards.—A further stage was reached in the withdrawal of official internal control over District Boards. In the preceding two years all but five District Boards secured the right of electing their own Chairmen; in the year under report this privilege was extended to the remaining five. In 20 boards the elective element was raised from one-half to two-thirds while the boards were also enlarged. The Darjeeling Road Cess Committee is giving place to a District Board on a popular basis, with three Local Boards, which are likely to possess a large measure of financial independence.

2. Local Boards.—The membership of Local Boards was increased, while three new boards were established. These bodies maintain village roads and are responsible for village sanitation, where these duties have not been transferred to Union Boards. In the Burdwan district they were also in charge of ferries and primary education; in Nadia they are also responsible for the maintenance of masonry wells. There is a tendency to transfer the functions of the Local Board to the new Union Boards, and in Burdwan, we are told, that as a result of this transfer frequent meetings on the part of the Sadar Local Board proved unnecessary. The place of the Local Board, if it is not to be eliminated in the framework of the local self-government system, will be a matter of cardinal importance when the amendment of the Local Self-Government Act is undertaken.

3. Village Self-Government.—A forward policy in the creation of Union Boards was accepted by Government, and by the close of the year nearly 1,600 Union Boards had been formed. Few will doubt that this movement—if it succeeds—is fraught with important issues in the political life of Bengal. There have been many failures, but some of these village committees, especially in the Dacca district, have shown vitality and energy, which are a hopeful augury of the growth of public spirit and civic responsibility. Some District Boards have taken a keen interest in the welfare of these new bodies; in Burdwan district over half a lakh was contributed towards their expenses from the district fund.

The District Boards, however, find their own resources quite inadequate for their expanding functions, and the success of the Union Boards must depend largely on their willingness to utilize their power of taxation. It is contended that the villagers cannot afford to pay taxes for the improvement of their unions, and it must be admitted that experience has not yet justified the optimism, which held that the villager was shrewd enough to pay, if he saw that he was obtaining good value for his money in the shape of improved communications and sanitation.

The number of Union Committees declined in proportion as they gave place to Union Boards, but there were still 309 Union Committees working at the end of the year. In the Presidency Division the Rajibpore Union Committee, 24-Parganas, is singled out for special praise; its record of works shows the benefits which a public-spirited Chairman can obtain for the group of villages in which he labours. In reviewing Village Self-Government as a whole the Minister (Local Self-Government Department) feels constrained to travel beyond the annals of 1920-21 in referring to the deplorable set back, which the tender growth of village committees has of late received at the hands of the non-co-operator. In Midnapore district there was an organized campaign against the new Union Boards, and as Government had no desire to force these institutions on the villagers against their will orders have recently issued for the withdrawal of the Union Board system in that district. The old chaukidari panchayats have replaced them, and the clock has unfortunately been set back.

4. Financial results.—The receipts from all sources amounted to Rs. 122·7 lakhs against Rs. 129 lakhs in the preceding year, the decrease being mainly due to smaller receipts under deposits and advances and miscellaneous heads. There was also a corresponding decrease in the total disbursements which fell from Rs. 130·7 lakhs to Rs. 122·7 lakhs. The excess of current income over current expenditure amounting in the previous year to Rs. 38,000 was reduced to a deficit of about Rs. 4·8 lakhs. The closing balance at the end of the year amounted to Rs. 31·8 lakhs.

5. Taxation.—The incidence of taxation averaged 2 annas 6 pies a head for the whole Presidency, and varied in different districts from 1 anna 7 pies to 6 annas 8 pies.

6. Education.—The expenditure on education rose from Rs. 26·7 lakhs to Rs. 28·5 lakhs, and excluding the contributions received from Government and other sources and the fees and miscellaneous receipts, the sum contributed by District Boards from their own funds rose from Rs. 9½ lakhs to Rs. 11·3 lakhs. The Minister for Local Self-Government observes with satisfaction that the increase was mainly due to the greater attention paid by most District Boards to the expansion of primary education in rural areas. The number of upper and lower primary schools maintained and aided by District Boards rose from 37,871 to 39,078, of which 29,936 were boys' schools and 9,142 girls' schools; those actually maintained by the Boards increased from 2,909 to 3,010. Schemes for the development of primary education on the lines suggested by Mr. Biss were sanctioned for three unions in the district of Khulna, and a grant of Rs. 8,000 for capital expenditure was made by Government towards the execution of the schemes. Female education made a satisfactory stride during the year; the number of schools increased by 600 and the number of pupils by 9,000. A sub-committee of seven lady members was formed in Khulna to advise the District Board in matters relating to the education of girls. Technical and industrial education continued to receive special attention. Two new weaving schools were started with the aid of District Boards, viz., one at Midnapore and the other at Tantipara in Birbhum. The District Board of Khulna also decided to open a district weaving school as an experimental measure.

7. Medical relief and public health.—The expenditure under these heads aggregated Rs. 11·7 lakhs against Rs. 10·5 lakhs of the preceding year. In nearly all districts definite programmes have been laid down for the gradual extension of dispensaries, and 22 new dispensaries were established during the year, making a total of 304. Two hundred and twenty-six dispensaries were in receipt of grants-in-aid from District Boards amounting to Rs. 2·77 lakhs. No dispensaries were maintained by any of the Boards in the Chittagong Division, which however, made grants-in-aid amounting to

Rs. 1.13 lakhs to 55 dispensaries. Eleven temporary dispensaries were maintained by the Burdwan District Board and three by the Birbhum District Board to combat epidemics of malaria and cholera. The opinion is gaining ground that District Boards should cut adrift from the long-accepted policy of constructing dispensary buildings of the old expensive type; the means for affording relief to the masses can be quickly multiplied if it is once admitted that buildings of the cheap type on which private dwellings in rural areas are constructed may serve as efficient centres for a medical agency. The Midnapore District Board's scheme for providing a network of dispensaries on these lines within the next ten years commends itself to the Minister and steps are being taken to modify the rules under which buildings must at present be designed after a costly standard type.

In Khulna 20 anti-malarial leagues were established under the general control and guidance of the Health Officer. The members are enrolled as unpaid voluntary workers in the anti-mosquito campaign and the distribution of quinine. The subsidization of medical practitioners—initiated in Jessore—was approved in Midnapore, Howrah, Khulna and Dacca; in the Midnapore district four doctors, who each receive from the Board a subsidy of Rs. 35 per mensem plus Rs. 5 as house-rent, have now begun work. In the 24-Parganas subsidies of Rs. 30 per mensem were offered, but no doctors could be obtained; a similar report comes from Nadia, where subsidies of Rs. 35 per mensem were offered. In Dacca five doctors were obtained on subsidies of Rs. 35 per mensem; they are required to visit schools within a radius of 5 miles of their centres in order to give simple courses of instruction on personal hygiene and sanitation. In Jessore the Board has been able to withdraw its subsidies from established practitioners, but owing to the reduction of the rates of subsidies no suitable doctors were available for the new centres. The establishment of an Amurvedic dispensary by this District Board attracted great interest. It is reported to have made some mark as a medical institution suitable for the treatment of chronic diseases.

The usual petty sanitary works, such as the removal of jungle, clearing roadside and village drains, filling up insanitary ditches, etc., were carried on through the agency of Local Boards, Union Boards and Union Committees.

In India the deplorable waste of life from preventable diseases is a commonplace, and in the Howrah Sadar subdivision a demonstration of anti-cholera measures was carried out at Government cost. The experiment is thus described by the Commissioner:—

“Six sanitary inspectors were placed in six thanas with a sub-assistant surgeon as their supervisor, while the entire operation was in charge of the Health Officer. The inspectors were provided with bleaching powder, hycol, cholera literature and cholera posters. They visited police-stations once a day and as soon as they came to know of any outbreak of cholera they proceeded at once to the spot and disinfected rooms, buildings, soiled cloths, etc., while they also gave the occupiers of the house and the neighbours necessary instructions and sterilised tanks with bleaching powder where necessary. They distributed cholera literature among the people and published posters at prominent places dealing with the causes and prevention of cholera. The inspectors tried to get information from all available sources and principally through the Presidents of Union Boards, the idea being to check the disease in the very beginning.”

It is reported that since the commencement of the campaign the death-rate from cholera has been appreciably reduced. Measures of this kind cannot, however, be at once improvised when epidemics occur; it is desirable that District Health Officers should prepare the way for such campaigns well in advance by constant anti-cholera propaganda and by dealing promptly with small sporadic epidemics. If the efficacy of preventive measures is thus demonstrated throughout the year, it will be easier for a special staff to work on a larger scale, when more severe epidemics occur. Temporary itinerant doctors such as were employed in several parts of the Rajshahi Division, if their activities are properly organized and trained, form a useful nucleus for a special staff of this kind. The Minister is glad to find that District Health Officers have to some extent realized the paramount importance of simple public health propaganda at the present time. In Birbhum pamphlets containing instructions for the prevention and treatment of cholera, small-pox and influenza were distributed through the agency of the Presidents of Union Boards, and in Bankura doctors were deputed to inspect and treat pilgrim traffic from Puri.

During the year the Vaccination Act was extended to all the areas administered by the District Boards in the Burdwan Division, and the system of free vaccination was in force in the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum and Howrah. The Health Officer, Howrah, held several magic lantern demonstrations to explain the benefits of vaccination to the masses. The Mymensingh District Board had a staff of 56 vaccinators including 4 women operators to attend to the pardanishin. Considerable attention was paid to vaccination in the Patuakhali subdivision, the number of persons vaccinated including those vaccinated in the preceding year was about 32 per cent. of the population.

As regards works of sanitation, it is noteworthy that the Bakarganj District Board spent no less than Rs. 52,248 in the excavation and re-excavation of khals; this work is said to have had a marked effect on the sanitation of the areas concerned.

General.—On the whole, there seems ground for believing that local bodies have a keen appreciation of their obligations in the matter of public health, but the inadequacy of their funds is a constant handicap. The Minister is glad to observe a general tendency amongst District Boards to concentrate their activities on the following lines :—

- (1) an extension of medical relief by the creation of new dispensaries and the subsidizing of rural doctors who require aid until they can build up a practice ;
- (2) the organization of preventive measures, combined with treatment, in the case of epidemics ;
- (3) the improvement of vaccination work ; and
- (4) public health propaganda, in which Health Officers should take a leading part.

He is satisfied that on these lines much valuable work can be done, and has now under consideration the question of the extent to which Government can assist the Boards in these matters.

8. Veterinary.—The charges under this head amounted to Rs. 1,36,000 against Rs. 1,12,000 of the preceding year. The veterinary assistants continued to do useful work by visiting villages affected by cattle disease and treating the cattle in villages and at hospitals. There were outbreaks of cattle diseases in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore, Bakarganj and Jessore. In Bakarganj there was a severe outbreak of rinderpest which carried off thousands of cattle and crippled the cultivators. A veterinary inspector has recently been placed in charge of this district and of the Khulna and Jessore districts by the Veterinary Department. In Nadia and Khulna veterinary committees were formed by veterinary assistants with a view to secure co-operation in their work.

9. Civil works.—The total expenditure under this head, which includes the sums spent on water-supply and drainage, rose from Rs. 60·3 lakhs to Rs. 61·6 lakhs. The outlay on buildings and tools and plant increased by 2·5 lakhs, but that on communications and water-supply decreased by Rs. 1·6 lakhs and 1·2 lakhs, respectively. The decrease was in some cases due to scarcity of labour, but its main cause was the shortage of railway wagons which rendered it impossible to obtain either metal for the roads or coal for burning bricks. As was to be expected under these conditions, there were large lapses amounting in Birbhum and 24-Parganas to nearly one-fourth of the total allotment for civil works. The District Boards of Howrah and Khulna allowed over 19 per cent. of the allotment to lapse and four other Boards, viz., Burdwan, Midnapore, Jessore and Noakhali had lapse of over 15 per cent. of the allotments. Taking the figures for the province as a whole the proportion of lapses rose from 11 to 12 per cent.

10. Communications.—The growth of water-hyacinth has increased to an alarming extent. By-laws were framed by several District Boards to secure the removal of this pest; some District Boards served notices on persons requiring them to remove the weed from their tanks or ponds, but the notices proved ineffective. A resolution was therefore passed by the District Board Conference of 1921 to the effect that Government should undertake legislation at once for the eradication of this nuisance in consultation with the Government of Assam. It is understood that the Assam Government is not at present prepared to take measures chargeable to provincial revenues; in Bengal a Committee has been appointed to advise Government on this matter.

Particular attention was paid by the District Board of Hooghly to the prevention of encroachment on roads. About 114 encroachment cases were reported by subordinate officers; in each case the encroachment was removed.

11. Water-supply.—The total expenditure amounted to about Rs. 5·8 lakhs, of which Rs. 5 lakhs were spent on original works. Taking the Presidency as a whole, the percentage of the Public Works Cess receipts spent on water-supply fell from 20 to 16·7 per cent., the decrease being most marked in Nadia, 24-Parganas, Mymensingh, Bakarganj, Noakhali and Bogra. On the other hand, there was a marked improvement in the districts of Bankura, Tippera, Hooghly, Murshidabad and Chittagong: in the two districts first named the percentage was more than 24 per cent. against 9·4 and 8·4, respectively, in the previous year. In Midnapore, where also the percentage showed a slight increase, the District Board allowed a large allotment to lapse mainly through the dilatory execution of works and delay in determining the rates at which labour should be paid. Tanks started in this district in 1919-20 remained unfinished even at the end of the year under review.

As in the preceding year, the whole of the amount spent on water-supply was met from current revenue, and the reports do not show that any District Board has considered seriously the suggestion made last year that capital works of this kind should be financed from loans.

12. Drainage.—The expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 1·4 lakhs, of which Rs. 1·1 lakhs represented the expenditure incurred on account of the Jaboona project in Nadia and the Arool bil scheme in Jessore. The Nowi-Sunthi and the Jaboona projects were taken up by the District Board of the 24-Parganas. All these projects are under execution by the Public Works Department of Government. In other districts drainage works were confined chiefly to clearing roadside drains, re-excavating and deepening khals and the construction of bridges and culverts.

13. Relief works.—The expenditure fell from Rs. 1,65,000 to Rs. 7,000, of which Rs. 3,000 was spent by the Khulna District Board and the balance by the Noakhali District Board. No other District Boards had to undertake relief measures, a fact which indicates the absence of famine conditions in the province during the year. There were heavy floods in Midnapore, particularly in the Tamluk subdivision, which rendered many people homeless and caused acute distress. The District Board co-operated in the measures undertaken to relieve the distress.

14. Closing balance.—The actual closing balances decreased from Rs. 23·27 lakhs to Rs. 17·67 lakhs. Although the Burdwan District Board succeeded in reducing its balance by Rs. 1·75 lakhs, it closed the year with a balance of Rs. 2·64 lakhs for nearly half of which the Asansol Local Board was responsible. This is attributed to the difficulty of getting materials and also to the abnormal rise in the wages of labour. The accumulation of Rs. 2·62 lakhs in the case of the 24-Parganas is chiefly accounted for by the large unspent balances of the Government grant of Rs. 2 lakhs for the Nowi-Sunthi drainage scheme and of Rs. 59,041 for the improvement of the Jaboona river. The Rajshahi District Board reduced its balance by Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 17,766 and the balance in Chittagong decreased from Rs. 84,894 to the unduly low figure of Rs. 569. The Tippera, Faridpur and Dacca District Boards closed the year with debit balances of Rs. 16,221, Rs. 9,172 and Rs. 5,888, respectively, indicating overdrawals on the District Funds. In Faridpur and Dacca this was due to an overestimate of the cess receipts and might have been avoided had the District Boards revised their budgets a few months before the close of the year. The heavy fall in Tippera from the credit balance of Rs. 1,08,000 at the end of the previous year has not been explained. On the other hand, the balances rose to more than a lakh in Bakarganj and Khulna. In the former the rise was due to an unexpected increase in the cess receipts for the expenditure of which there was no budget provision, while in the latter district it was due partly to the receipt of a special Government grant of Rs. 15,000 for educational purpose and partly to heavy lapses under "Civil Works" and "Medical." In Midnapore and Howrah the balances were also heavy amounting in each case to nearly Rs. 1·5 lakhs. No explanation has been given in the case of Howrah, but in Midnapore there were heavy savings under "Civil Works."

15. General remarks.—While the heavy balances indicate defective budgetting or the dilatory execution of work, the universal cry of District Boards is the inadequacy of their revenues for their expanding functions. Labour and materials are more expensive, while the creation of Union Boards has placed a new charge on the District Fund. Important schemes have been drawn up for the expansion of primary education, extension of water supply, adoption of a comprehensive public health policy, improvement of communication, etc., but the financial difficulty has to many Boards appeared insuperable. The adoption of a loan policy will in some cases be possible, but an expansion of revenue is also necessary, and it is difficult to devise taxation, which will sufficiently augment the resources of the District Boards without proving oppressive to the tax-payers. This question was discussed at the Conference of the representatives of District Boards held in December 1919. The Conference was opposed to any increase in the cess, but approved a proposal to levy a tax on carts, carriages and horses in rural areas. This proposal has recently been revised, and enquiries are being made as to the approximate revenue such a tax might yield and the method of its assessment and collection.

Apart from finance, the work of the District Boards, many of which were under non-official Chairmen, was on the whole satisfactory; most of the non-official Chairmen showed great interest in their important duties, and there is no doubt that the District Boards have considerable vitality and are beginning to open up a field of useful public service to many of the ablest men in the mufassal. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division observes :—

"The general impression left on my mind after inspecting the District Board offices is that with the passing of the official Chairmen who worked in one groove, there has been an improvement in the variety of projects undertaken for the good of the people. The work of the Board is more attractive to members, and each non-official Chairman is conscientiously doing his best with the time at his command in the matter of touring."

FORESTS.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 5014For.—The 5th May 1922.—The following regulations for the appointment, in India, of probationers for the Imperial Forest Service in 1922 are published for general information.

M. C. McALPIN.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Regulations for the appointment, in India, of probationers for the Imperial Forest Service in 1922.

Applications are invited from natives* of India and Burma for probationerships for the Imperial Forest Service. Candidates of European or Anglo-Indian descent must be unmarried and, if appointed as probationers, must remain unmarried until completion of the prescribed course of training and their return to India.

2. Applicants, who should not be more than 23, nor less than 19, years of age on 30th June 1922, must possess an Honours, or a first class, degree in Science of a University incorporated by law in British India.

3. Any attempt on the part of a candidate to enlist support for his application through persons of influence will disqualify him for appointment. Testimonials or other recommendations should not be attached to the applications.

4. Applications from officers already in the public service, whether as probationers or on a permanent establishment, will not be entertained.

5. Applications from residents in Coorg, Ajmer, Baluchistan, North-West Frontier Province and Delhi should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue and Agriculture, through the Chief Commissioners of those Administrations, and from residents in Indian States through the Political Officer or Agent in time to reach the Government of India not later than the 15th June 1922. Applications from residents in other territories should be addressed to the Revenue Secretary of the local Government concerned in time to reach him not later than the 15th June 1922. The applications must be in the form attached to these regulations. Copies of the regulations and of the forms of application may be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agriculture Department, the Revenue Secretaries to the Government of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, Burma, Bihar and Orissa, Assam, Central Provinces, the Chief Commissioner of Coorg, Ajmer, Delhi; the Chief Commissioner and Agent to the Governor-General in the North-West Frontier Province; the Agent to the Governor-General and Chief Commissioner in Baluchistan and Political Officers of Indian States.

6. Applications must be accompanied by a preliminary medical certificate of fitness for service in the Forest Department, signed by a Presidency Surgeon or the Civil Surgeon of the district or agency in which the applicant resides. This certificate is intended to prevent applications from candidates who are obviously physically unsuited for the Forest Service and will not exempt candidates from appearance before the final Medical Board.

7. Candidates who from their applications and from any further enquiries that may be considered necessary appear to the Government of India or to the local Government concerned to be prima facie suitable will be summoned to appear before a Medical Board to undergo a strict medical examination in which particular stress will be laid on good vision and hearing. If passed as fit for the work of the Forest Department, they will then be interviewed by a Selection Board appointed by the Government of India or by the local Government concerned as the case may be.

8. Candidates summoned by the Government of India to appear for the medical examination and interview referred to in paragraph 7 who come from a greater distance than 200 miles for either purpose will be paid half the cost of a 2nd class fare [by rail or (and) by steamer] for the journeys to and from the place where the medical examination and interview are held.

* "Native of India" means any person born and domiciled within the dominions of His Majesty in India or within the territory of the Indian Princes tributary to, or in alliance with, His Majesty, of parents habitually resident in India and not established there for temporary purposes only.

Candidates summoned by local Governments for similar purposes may be paid travelling allowance under such conditions and at such rates as the local Government concerned may specify.

No allowance for board and lodging will be made in connection with the journeys mentioned above and candidates must make their own arrangements in this respect.

9. Those finally selected as a result of the interview prescribed in paragraph 7 will be appointed as probationers for the Indian Forest Service; they will be required to leave for England early in September and, subject to their undergoing satisfactorily, as described below, a course in Forestry and allied subjects in England, will be appointed finally as Assistant Conservators of Forests. Candidates selected for training will be provided with second class passages to England, but the cost of travelling to the port of embarkation will not be paid.

10. Period of probation.—Before appointment to the Imperial Forest Service a probationer will be required—

- (1) to have undergone and qualified in, to an extent to be prescribed by His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, the course of Forestry at such University as the Secretary of State may prescribe;
- (2) to have undergone a special course of instruction in Forestry under the direction and supervision of the Director of Indian Forest Studies;
- (3) to have passed an examination in forest engineering and, if required in certain other special subjects, namely, Systematic Botany of Indian trees, Indian Geology, Forest Law and Indian Working Plans;
- (4) to have undergone a final competitive examination in Forestry;
- (5) to have satisfied the Secretary of State, in such manner as may be determined, of his ability to ride.

The period of probation is, in ordinary cases, two years. The Director of Indian Forest Studies instructs probationers in each case as to the order and manner in which they should fulfil these various requirements.

11. Charges.—Probationers will be required to defray all expenses of lodging, board, tuition and excursions to forest centres in the United Kingdom while at the University and on practical instruction.

12. Allowances.—The Secretary of State for India in Council makes payment to each probationer at the rate of £350 per annum, not exceeding a total of £700.

These payments are ordinarily made on the following dates:—

First year—

on the 15th October	75
" " " December	100
" " " March	75
" " 1st July	100
				<hr/>
				350

Second year—

on the 15th December	100
" " " March	75
" " 1st July	100
" " 15th October	75

The cases of probationers whose probation does not extend over the full period of two years will be specially considered.

For tours made on the Continent, under the instructions of the Director of Forest Studies, subsistence and travelling allowance will be paid by the Secretary of State for India in Council at such rates as he may from time to time fix. The fees of the local forest officials at the centres visited will also be paid by the Secretary of State.

* This allowance is unlikely to be sufficient to meet all the needs of a probationer, who should be in a position to provide himself with at least another £150 per annum from other sources.

The grant of allowances is subject to the following conditions :—

- (a) that the progress of the probationer in his studies is satisfactory ;
- (b) that the probationer gives security* to refund the payments in the event of his failing to qualify for an appointment in the Indian Forest Service, or not signing the articles of agreement as specified in paragraph 15 or failing to join the Indian Forest Service at the end of the period of probation ;
- (c) that the probationer undertakes to refund in proportions fixed under the terms of his agreement, the payments together with the cost of his first class passage to India, in the event of his leaving the Service during the first five years from the date of his appointment.

13. Conduct.—Every probationer is required to conduct himself during the period of probation in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary of State and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in his studies in such a manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he is liable to have his name removed from the list of probationers.

14. Appointment and seniority.—Probationers who comply with the requirements of paragraph 10 within the sanctioned period of time, and also satisfy such other tests as may be prescribed, are appointed Assistant Conservators in the Indian Forest Department, provided they are of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Indian Forest Service. No probationers will be confirmed as a member of the Imperial Forest Service who fails to profit by the course of training, or who appears, in the light of the experience acquired as to his capacity and qualifications during the probationary period, to be unsuited for the work of a forest officer.

The position of the Assistant Conservators in the Provincial Forest Lists is determined by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the report of the Director of Indian Forest Studies. Officers promoted from the Provincial to the Imperial Service will take rank according to their pay in the latter service. Probationers recruited under these regulations must consequently be prepared to find their names placed below those of officers promoted from the Provincial Service.

Probationers are allowed at the end of the period of probation to state their preference in respect to the province to which they desire to be allotted ; but the distribution is made to the several provinces according to the needs of the public service, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India in Council and no guarantee can be given that probationers will, on appointment, be posted to their own provinces. Indians will not, however be required to serve in Burma and Burmans will not be required to serve in India.

Officers are at all times liable to be transferred from one province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India.

15. Articles of agreement.—A probationer is required, on qualifying for appointment as Assistant Conservator, to sign articles of agreement setting forth the terms and conditions of his appointment ; he must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State. Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

16. Passage to India.—Each probationer on appointment to the Indian Forest Service is provided with a free first-class passage to India.

17. Salary.—The scale of pay and allowances in force for officers of Indian domicile is given in Appendix II to these regulations.

18. Promotion and pension.—Promotion and pension are governed by the regulations laid down by the Government of India, and applicable to forest officers, such regulations being subject to any modifications or alterations which may be made in them from time to time by the Government of India, and their interpretation in case of any doubt arising being left to the Government.

Certain information regarding appointments in the upper controlling staff of the Indian Forest Service will be found in Appendix II, and summary of information regarding pensions is contained in Appendix III.

* Probationers will be required to give security to the local Government or Political Officer, through whom they submitted their applications. If this condition is not satisfied, they will not be permitted to leave for England.

APPENDICES.

APPENDIX I.

Final Examination.

1. With a view to the allocation of the annual Currie Scholarship for Indian Forest Students (value about £35), and to facilitate the allotment of probationers to the several provinces in accordance with paragraph 14 of the regulations as to appointments in the Indian Forest Service, probationers who have completed their prescribed course of training are required to undergo a competitive final examination in Forestry.

2. A list of the probationers in order of merit is prepared by adding together (a) the marks obtained at the final examination, and (b) the marks obtained during the course of practical training in Forestry under the control of the Director of Indian Forest Studies. The maximum of marks obtainable under (a) is the same as under (b).

But it must be clearly understood that the rejection of a candidate as physically unfit will be at the absolute discretion of the Medical Board and that this discretion is in no respect limited by these Regulations.

1. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health and free from any physical defect likely to interfere with efficient performance of duty.

2. No fixed limits of height or chest measurement are imposed but particular attention will be given to the general development of candidates.

3. The hearing must be good.

9. A candidate must have no congenital malformation or defect likely to interfere with efficiency.

10. A candidate must not be the subject of chronic skin disease.

Regulation as to the Standard of Vision for the Indian Forest Service.

1. If myopia in one or both eyes exists, a candidate may be passed, provided the ametropia does not exceed 2.5 D, and if with correcting glasses, not exceeding 2.5 D, the acuteness of vision in one eye equals $\frac{5}{6}$ and in the other $\frac{5}{6}$, there being normal range of accommodation with the glasses.

Defects of vision arising from pathological or other changes in the deeper structures of either eye which are not referred to in the above rules, may exclude a candidate for admission into the service.

RESOLUTION.

In paragraph 3 of Finance Department Resolution No. 1559-E.A., dated the 16th August 1921, the Government of India have issued general orders on the question of compensation to officers of the Services on account of low rates of exchange. As several representations have been received as to the position, in regard to these orders, of those services and appointments from which exchange compensation allowance has not been expressly withdrawn, it is necessary to amplify the orders to remove all doubts on the question of this allowance.

2. The position of the various services may briefly be explained as follows:—

- (1) In pursuance of the general policy of Government that exchange compensation allowance should cease to be admissible on the occasion of a revision of pay of a service or appointment previously entitled to the concession, the allowance had already been withdrawn prior to the Report of the Public Services Commission from the Indian Forest Service, the Indian Police (except those officers who were recruited before 1906) and from the great majority of officers in the Indian Political Department, the Public Works Department and certain other services.
- (2) At the introduction of revised scales of pay as a result of the Report of the Public Services Commission, exchange compensation allowance was specifically withdrawn from other services, e.g., the Indian Civil Service and the Civil Veterinary Department. The allowance was also definitely held to be inadmissible to the Indian Medical Service at the last revision of the scale of pay.
- (3) In certain other services, such as the Indian Educational Service, the Ecclesiastical Department and the Indian Audit Department, no definite pronouncement was made at the time of introduction of the revised rates of pay, as at that time the question did not immediately arise owing to the high rates of exchange then prevailing.

3. The absence of definite orders in cases falling under the third category has given rise to doubts as to the intention of Government. The whole question has therefore been considered, and the Government of India, with the approval of the Secretary of State, now desire to reaffirm the principle adopted in the past and adhered to in revisions of recent date that exchange compensation allowance should cease to be admissible to services and appointments the pay of which has recently been revised.

From the date of introduction of revised rates of pay, the allowance is therefore declared to be inadmissible to—

- (i) The Indian Educational Service ;
- (ii) Officers of the Indian Audit Department and the Ecclesiastical Department previously entitled to exchange compensation allowance ;
- (iii) Residents in the Indian Political Department (though the pay of 1st Class Residents has remained unchanged, the pay of the service, as a whole, has been revised) ;
- (iv) Officers of the Indian Police Service, except those appointed prior to 1906 who retain the right to the allowance ;
- (v) Officers in all other services and special appointments in respect of whom no specific declaration of inadmissibility has been made at the time of revision of pay.

4. The terms of paragraph 3 of the Finance Department Resolution No. 1559-E.A. of the 16th August 1921 will in such cases operate to safeguard officers against actual loss of emoluments.

5. The Judges of High Courts were entitled to exchange compensation allowance under the Statutory Rules set forth in Article 543 of the Civil Service Regulations, under which every Judge is allowed to draw, in addition to his salary, any exchange compensation allowance which may be sanctioned for public servants generally. As the allowance has now been generally withdrawn, the statutory rules will be amended and Judges will not be entitled to any allowance calculated on pay earned after the 1st April 1922. Any person, however, who as Chief Justice or Judge drew exchange compensation allowance before this withdrawal of the allowance from public servants generally will be protected from actual reduction of emoluments, owing to such withdrawal, by the grant of personal pay as provided in paragraph 3 of Resolution No. 1559-E.A., dated the 16th August 1921, when, and for so long as, he holds the same or a similar post on the same pay.

6. Officers serving on contract in which exchange compensation allowance forms part of the terms of the contract may retain the right to the allowance during the period of their existing engagement.

7. It has been brought to the notice of Government that in consequence of the omission to announce the withdrawal of exchange compensation allowance, audit officers have in some cases passed the allowance which has thus been drawn by officers not entitled to it under the present orders. The Government of India are, however, pleased to declare that such amount shall not be recovered, but such allowance shall cease to be drawn on pay earned after the 1st April 1922.

8. Officers who, on the 1st April 1922, are on leave and in receipt of leave salary which includes exchange compensation allowance, should continue, during leave, to draw exchange compensation allowance, instead of personal allowance in lieu thereof.

ORDERED that a copy be forwarded to the several Departments of the Government of India ; to all local Governments and Administrations ; to the Financial Adviser, Military Finance ; to the Auditor General ; to the Controller of the Currency ; to the Mint and Assay Masters, Calcutta and Bombay.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to the Auditor, Government of India Sanctions, for information and communication to all Accountants-General and the Comptroller, Assam; to the Deputy Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Delhi; to the Examiner of Accounts, Military Works Services; to all Chief Auditors of State Railways; to all Government Examiners of Railway Accounts; to the Examiner of Customs Accounts; to the Examiner of Press Accounts; to the Private and Military Secretaries to His Excellency the Viceroy; to the Chief Commissioner, Delhi Province; to the Audit Officers, Khyber Railway Construction, Delhi (New Capital) Railway Works Project, Bombay Development Scheme, and Indian Stores Department; to the Superintendent, Government Printing, India, Calcutta; and to the Member, Board of Inland Revenue.

(a) “Regular,” or those who enter for the full University course.

The admission to this class is restricted to students (male and female) who are natives of, or whose parents are domiciled in, the area within the territorial limits of the Calcutta University, and the Province of Bihar and Orissa.

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

2. The minimum preliminary qualification for admission to the—

(a) “Regular Class” is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office, on or before the 25th May, except in the case of Bihar, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

			Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20 0
Fees for Summer term	62 8
Athletic Club fee	2 0
Total			...	84 8

5. The number of Regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications, but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted shall be Muhammadans. Twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa, six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam and one by the Government of Central Provinces. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a).

In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who must have passed the I. Sc. Examination with Physics and Chemistry. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to the College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fee within a week from the date of the publication of their results, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

8. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual athletic club fee of Rs. 2 along with their fees for Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the Athletic Club fee.

For three or more subjects	75

13. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each subject, including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fees for Casual students or for certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 13 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 13 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

19. Holders of scholarships, awarded by the Government of Bengal, are not required to pay the annual fee of Rs. 125 for the year in which they hold such scholarships. OFFICE OF THE ACCOUNTANCY DIPLOMA BOARD, 65, APOLLO STREET, BOMBAY, the 27th April 1922.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES FOR

THE GOVERNMENT DIPLOMA IN ACCOUNTANCY OF THE SYDENHAM COLLEGE OF COMMERCE AND ECONOMICS, BOMBAY.

Regulation No. 4.—

(A) Examinations equivalent to Matriculation.—Examinations recognized by an Indian University as equivalent to the Matriculation or Entrance examination of that University will be recognized as such by the Accountancy Diploma Board under this Regulation. If the candidate has studied for one or more terms in a College affiliated to an Indian University, a certificate to that effect signed by the Principal of that College will be accepted as proof of the candidate's eligibility for the Diploma course. The previous orders of the Board must be secured by the candidate in other cases.

(B) Attendance certificate.—The attendance ought to be in an Institution specially recognized by the Accountancy Diploma Board for purposes of this Diploma. The candidate is required to have attended three-fourths of the number of days on which lectures were delivered in each of the two academic years. Should his attendance in either of the two years have fallen short of three-fourths, that particular year will not be counted as a portion of the two year's attendance prescribed by this Regulation. If he has attended the prescribed number of lectures in each of two academic years, but has not been certified as fit to present himself for the examination, he will not be required to attend lectures for a third year, but will merely be required to satisfy the Principal about his fitness to appear for the examination, and to submit his application through the Principal. He may undergo practical training in accounts during such third year, and such training will be counted as a portion of the three years' training prescribed by Regulation 12 (b).

(C) The fee of Rs. 50 must reach the Secretary to the Accountancy Diploma Board, 65 Apollo Street, Fort, Bombay, on or before 31st January. Fees paid in will on no account be refunded.

Regulation No. 5.—

Under this regulation, an under-graduate may, in lieu of attending lectures for two years as prescribed by Regulation No. 4, receive practical training in accounts for two years. He must apply to the Board for the recognition of such practical training and secure the orders of the Board before applying for the examination; the number and date of such order must be quoted in the candidate's application for the examination.

Regulations 6 and 13—

When the holder of a temporary auditor's certificate applies for the examination under Regulation 6 or for the Diploma under Regulation 13, the period for which the auditor's certificate was granted must not have expired. An application from such a candidate submitted after the expiry of the period for which the certificate was granted will not be accepted by the Board.

Regulation 12.—

Practical training.—Every candidate entering on the course of practical training prescribed by this Regulation must submit to the Accountancy Diploma Board an application for the recognition of such practical training in the prescribed form, copies of which can be had at the office of the Board, Apollo Street, Bombay; such applications must be submitted within sixty days of the commencement of the practical training.

The practical training must be under a Chartered or an Incorporated Accountant or a certified auditor, working as a Public Accountant. It is immaterial whether the candidate has paid a premium for such training or is in receipt of a salary. It is essential that he should be a full-time apprentice and should not be engaged in any other work during the usual office hours.

Chartered and Incorporated Accountants may take and train apprentices without the previous permission of the Government. The holder of a permanent (whether restricted or unrestricted) auditor's certificate granted by a local Government, may take and train apprentices, provided he is specially empowered in that behalf by the local Government of the Province where he is practising. The mere fact that he holds a permanent auditor's certificate will not empower him to take apprentices.

The apprenticeship may be served partly under one and partly under another practising accountant, provided it is in each case reported to and recognised by the Accountancy Diploma Board.

Regulation No. 12 (b).—

The practical training in accounts prescribed by this regulation may be (1) partly before and partly after, or (2) wholly before, or (3) wholly after the candidate passes the Diploma examination of this Board. The course prescribed for an under-graduate covers five years, viz., two years as a student of a recognized Institution, plus three years apprenticeship. The practical training in accounts, if any, received by an under-graduate during his two years' attendance of a recognized Institution will, therefore, not be reckoned as a portion of the three years' apprenticeship prescribed by this regulation.

Regulation 12 (c).—

At least two out of the three years' apprenticeship prescribed for graduates must be served after they become graduates.

Number of Apprentices.—No practising Accountant will be authorized to take and train more than two apprentices at a time. But a Chartered or an Incorporated Accountant, in public practice, may, in special cases, be permitted by the Accountancy Diploma Board to take and NOT more than four apprentices at a time.

Auditor's Certificate.—No permanent unrestricted Auditor's certificate will be granted by any local Government or Administration to a person who does not hold the Government Diploma in Accountancy of the Sydenham College of Commerce and Economics, Bombay. Holders of the Diploma have to apply for a permanent unrestricted Auditor's certificate to the local Government of the Province where they intend to set up practice.

By order of the Accountancy Diploma Board,

K. S. AIYAR, B.A., L.T., F.S.A.A.,

Secretary.

(a) “Regular Class” is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office, on or before the 25th May, except in the case of Biharis, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

			Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20 0
Fees for Summer term	62 8
Athletic Club fee	2 0
Total			...	84 8

5. The number of Regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications, but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted shall be Muhammadans. Twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa, six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam and one by the Government of Central Provinces. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a).

In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who must have passed the I. Sc. Examination with Physics and Chemistry. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to the College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fee within a week from the date of the publication of their results, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

8. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual athletic club fee of Rs. 2 along with their fees for Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the Athletic Club fee.

13. Students taking up subjects out of the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each subject, including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fees for Casual students or for certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 13 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 13 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.
